

using   thought and  speech make your own story about how consent matters to the characters in the comic strip.

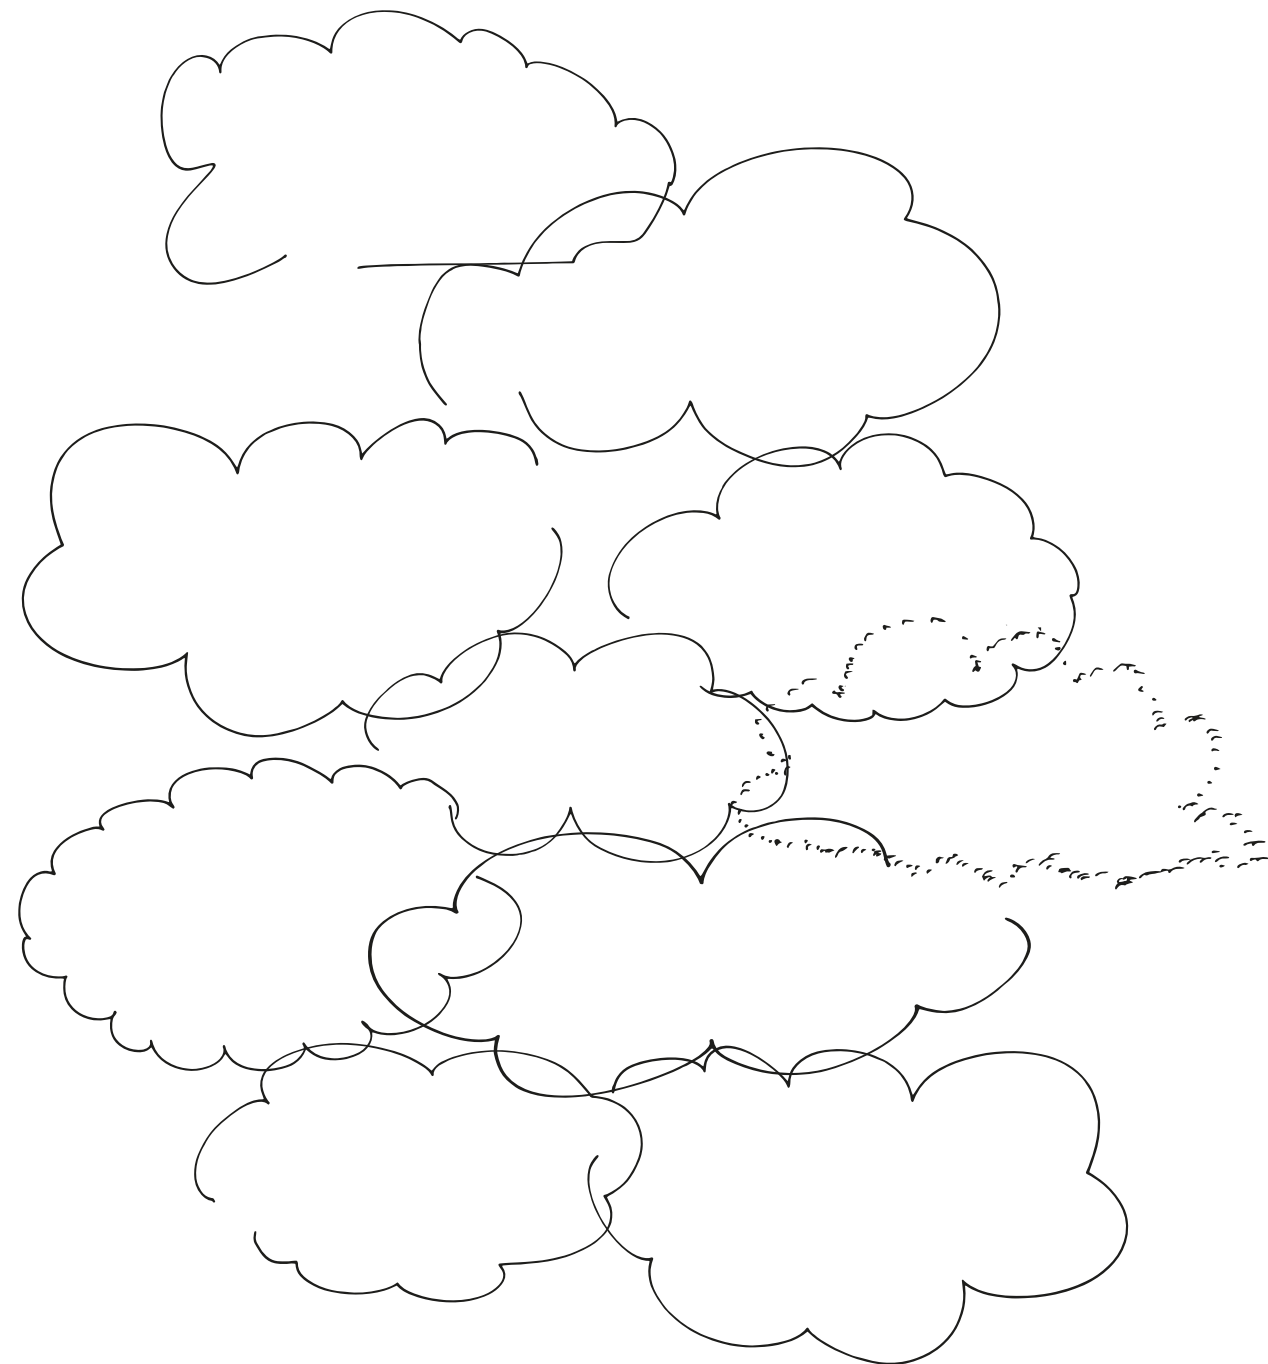

what is consent?

consent: seeking and giving permission for something to happen

from the latin:
con (connectivity) sent (feelings)

why not colour in the characters using the feelings-cloud colour palette on the next page?

feelings - cloud colour palette

colour

feeling

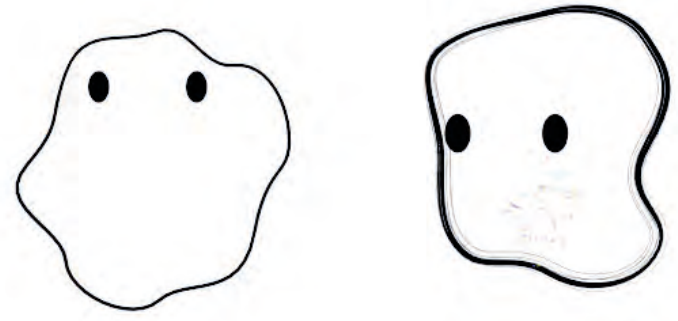

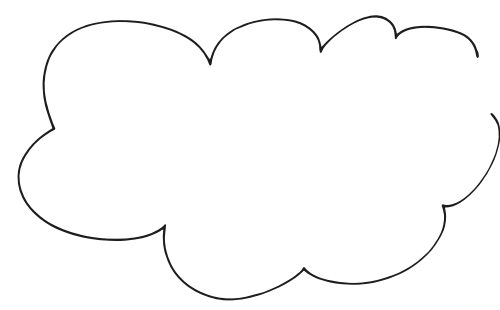

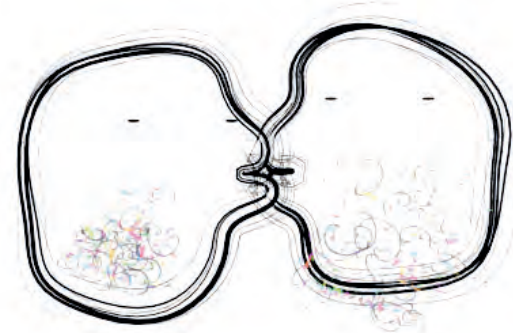

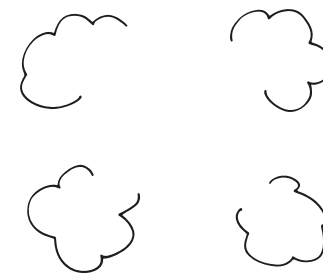

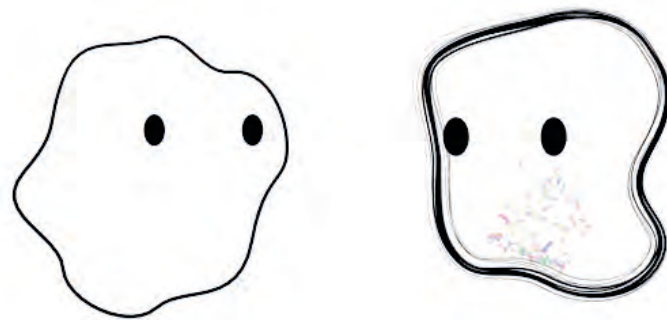

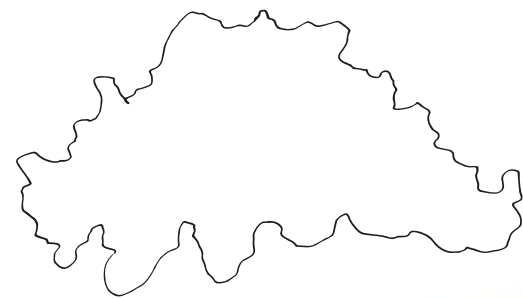

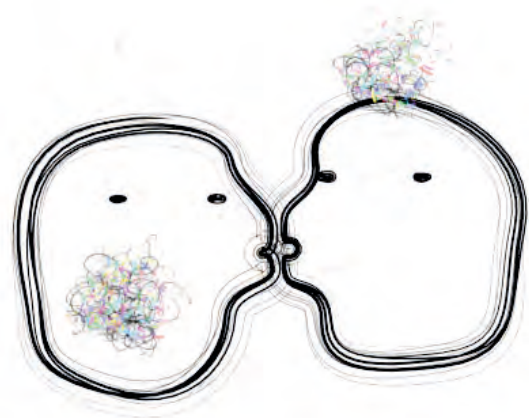

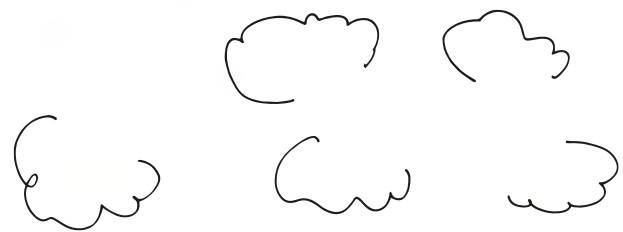

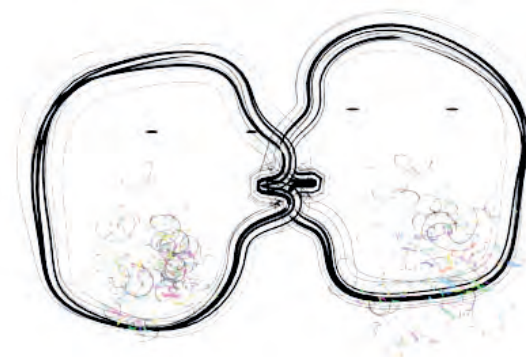

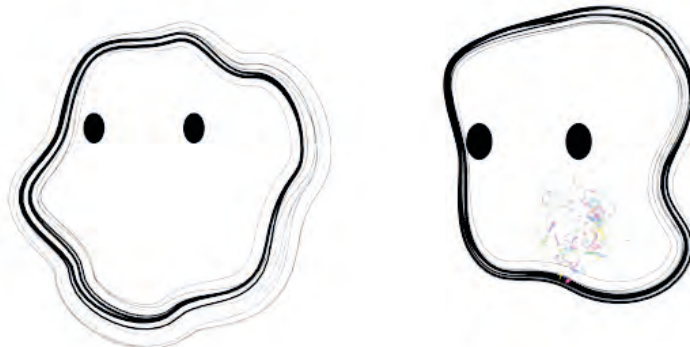

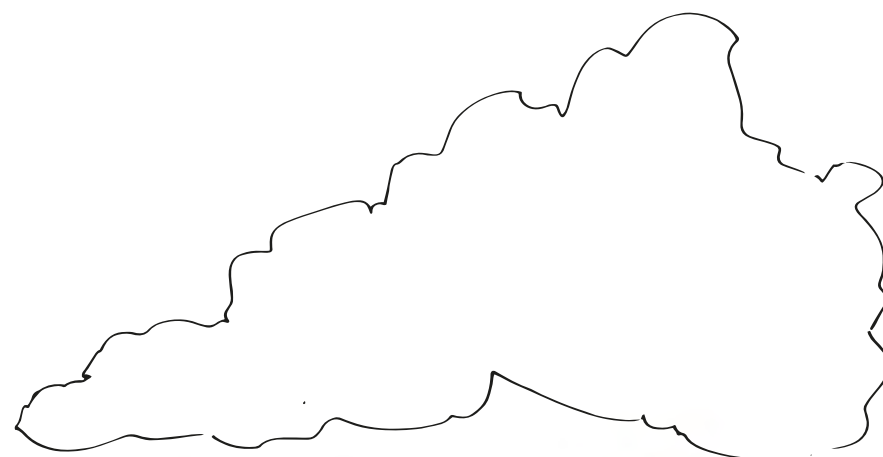

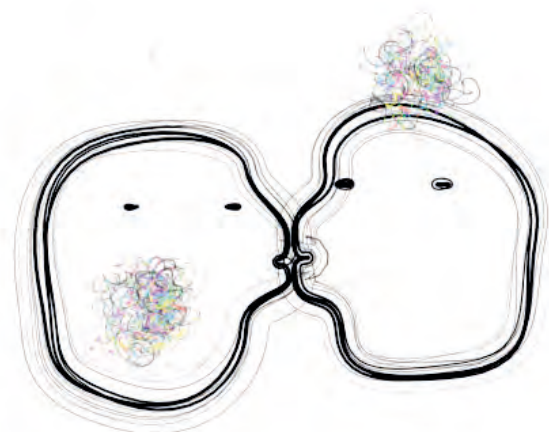

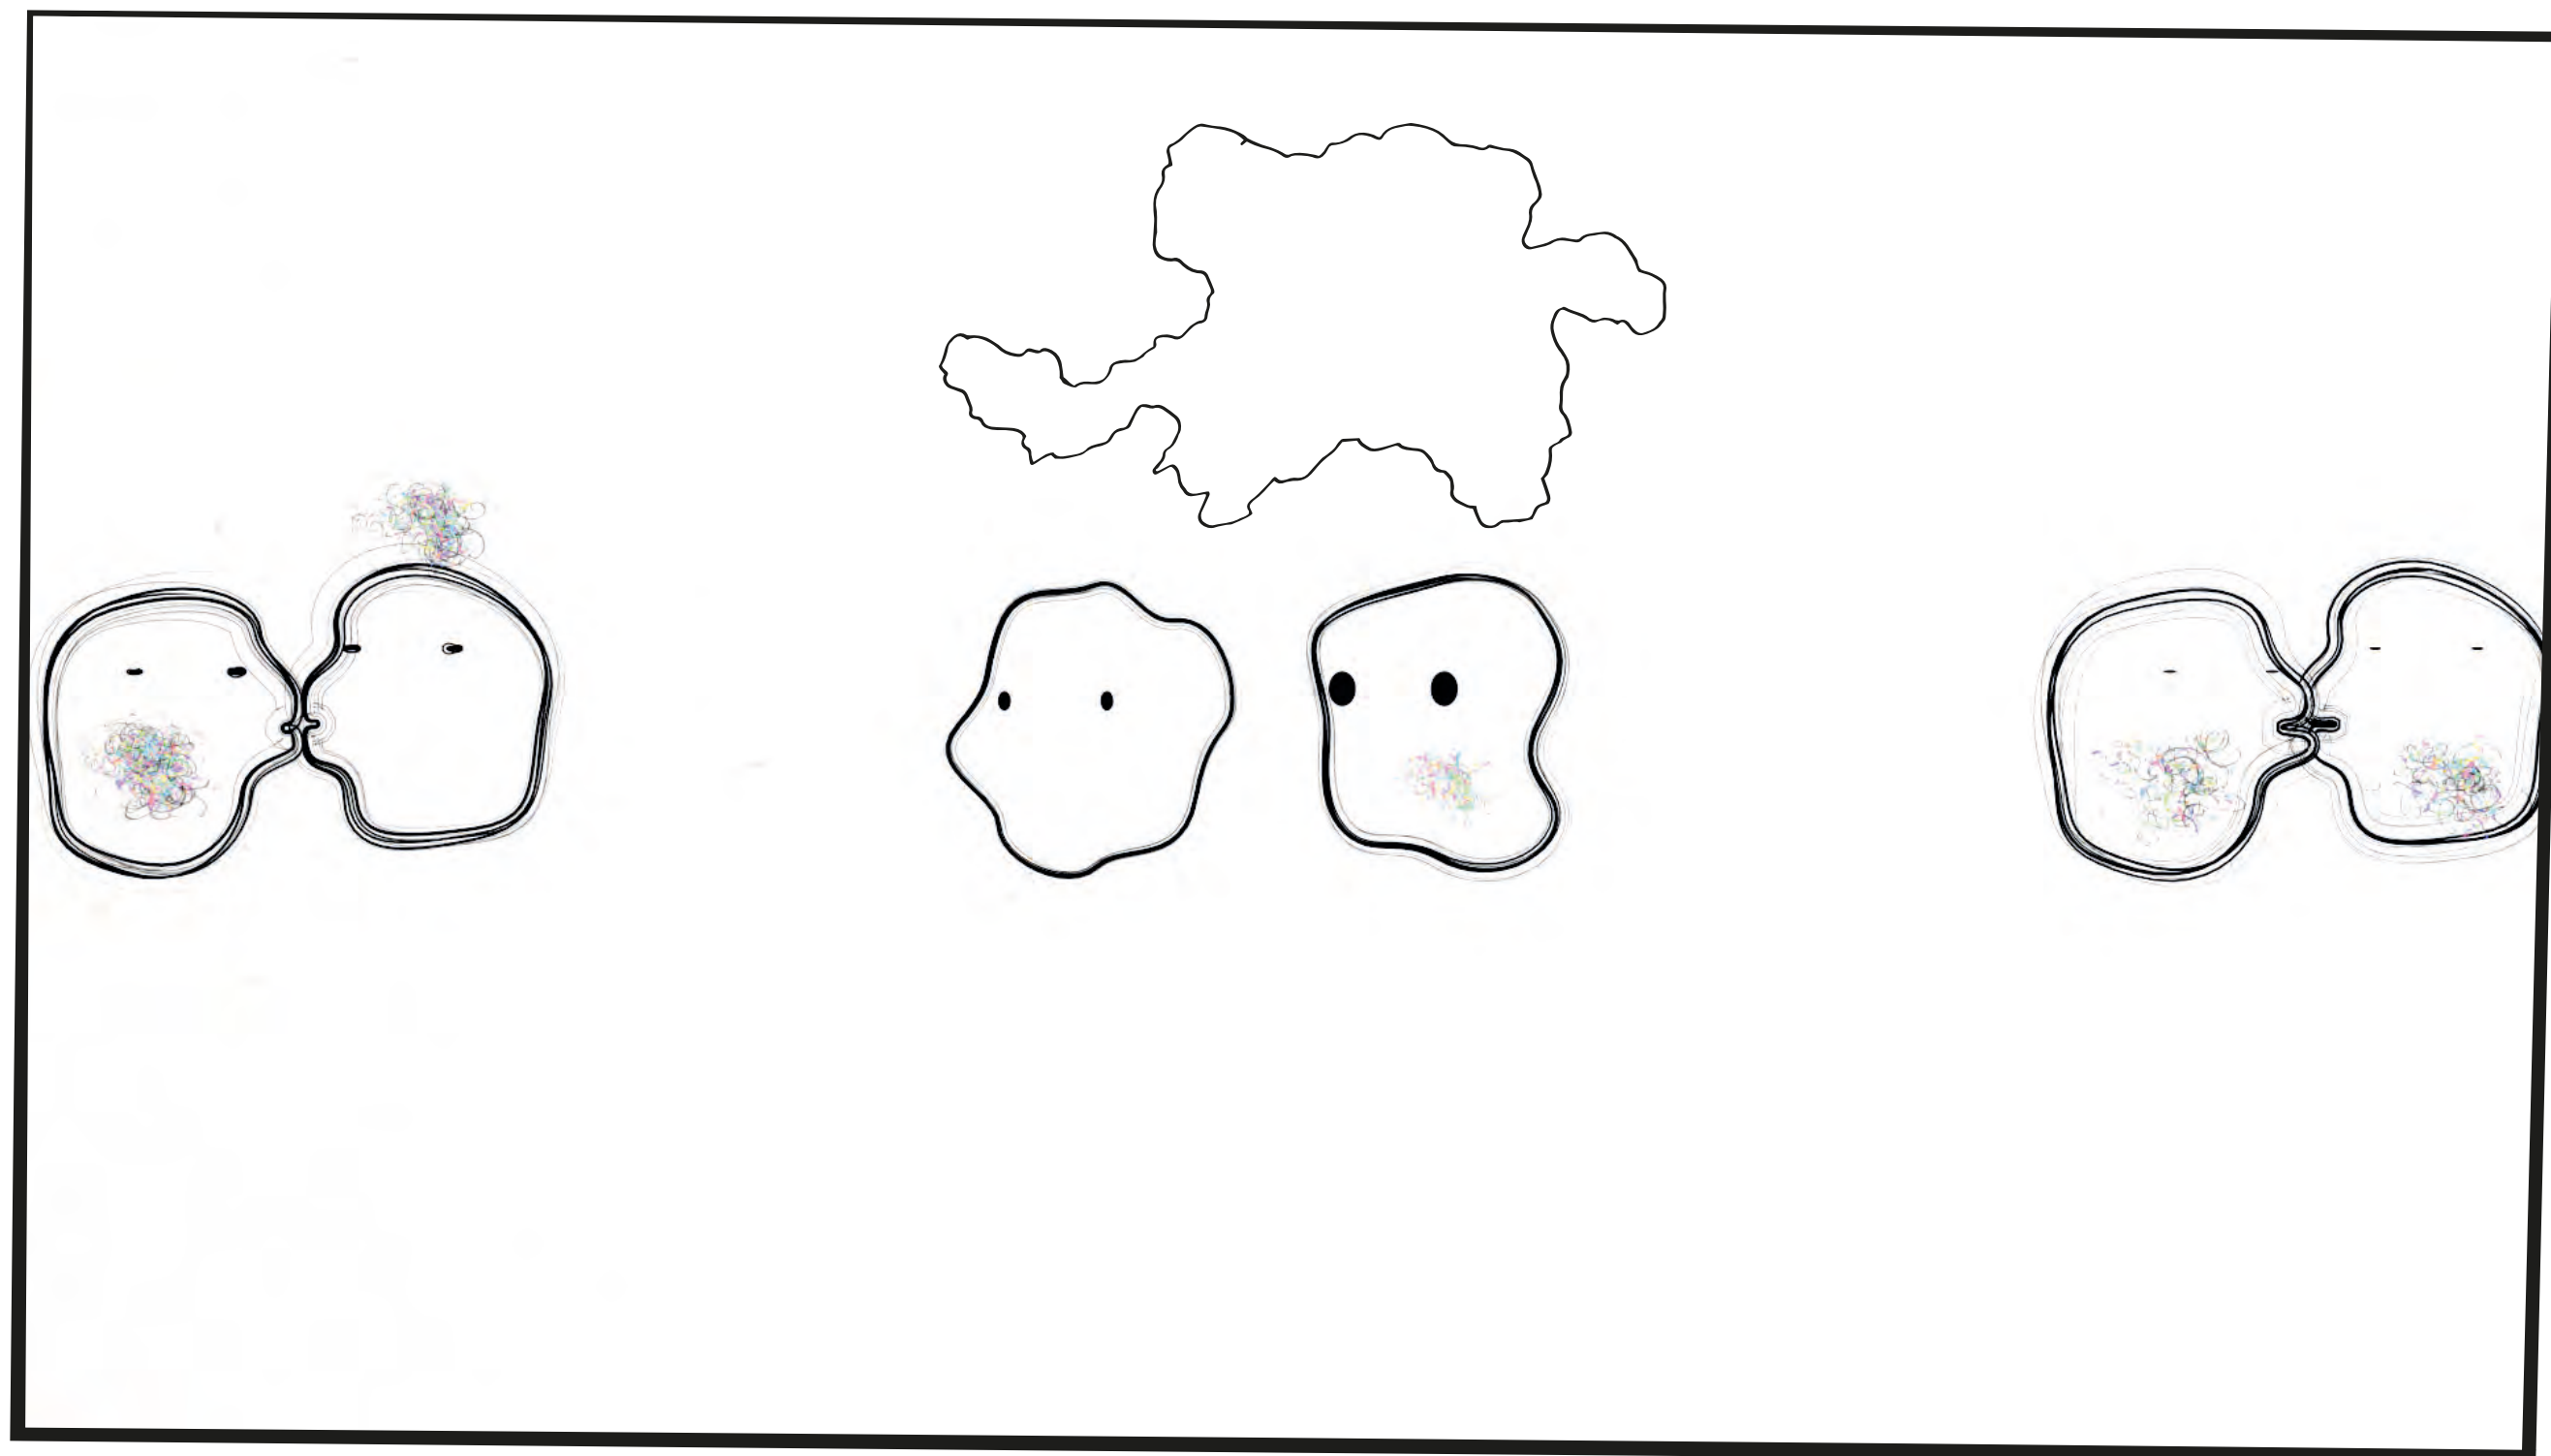

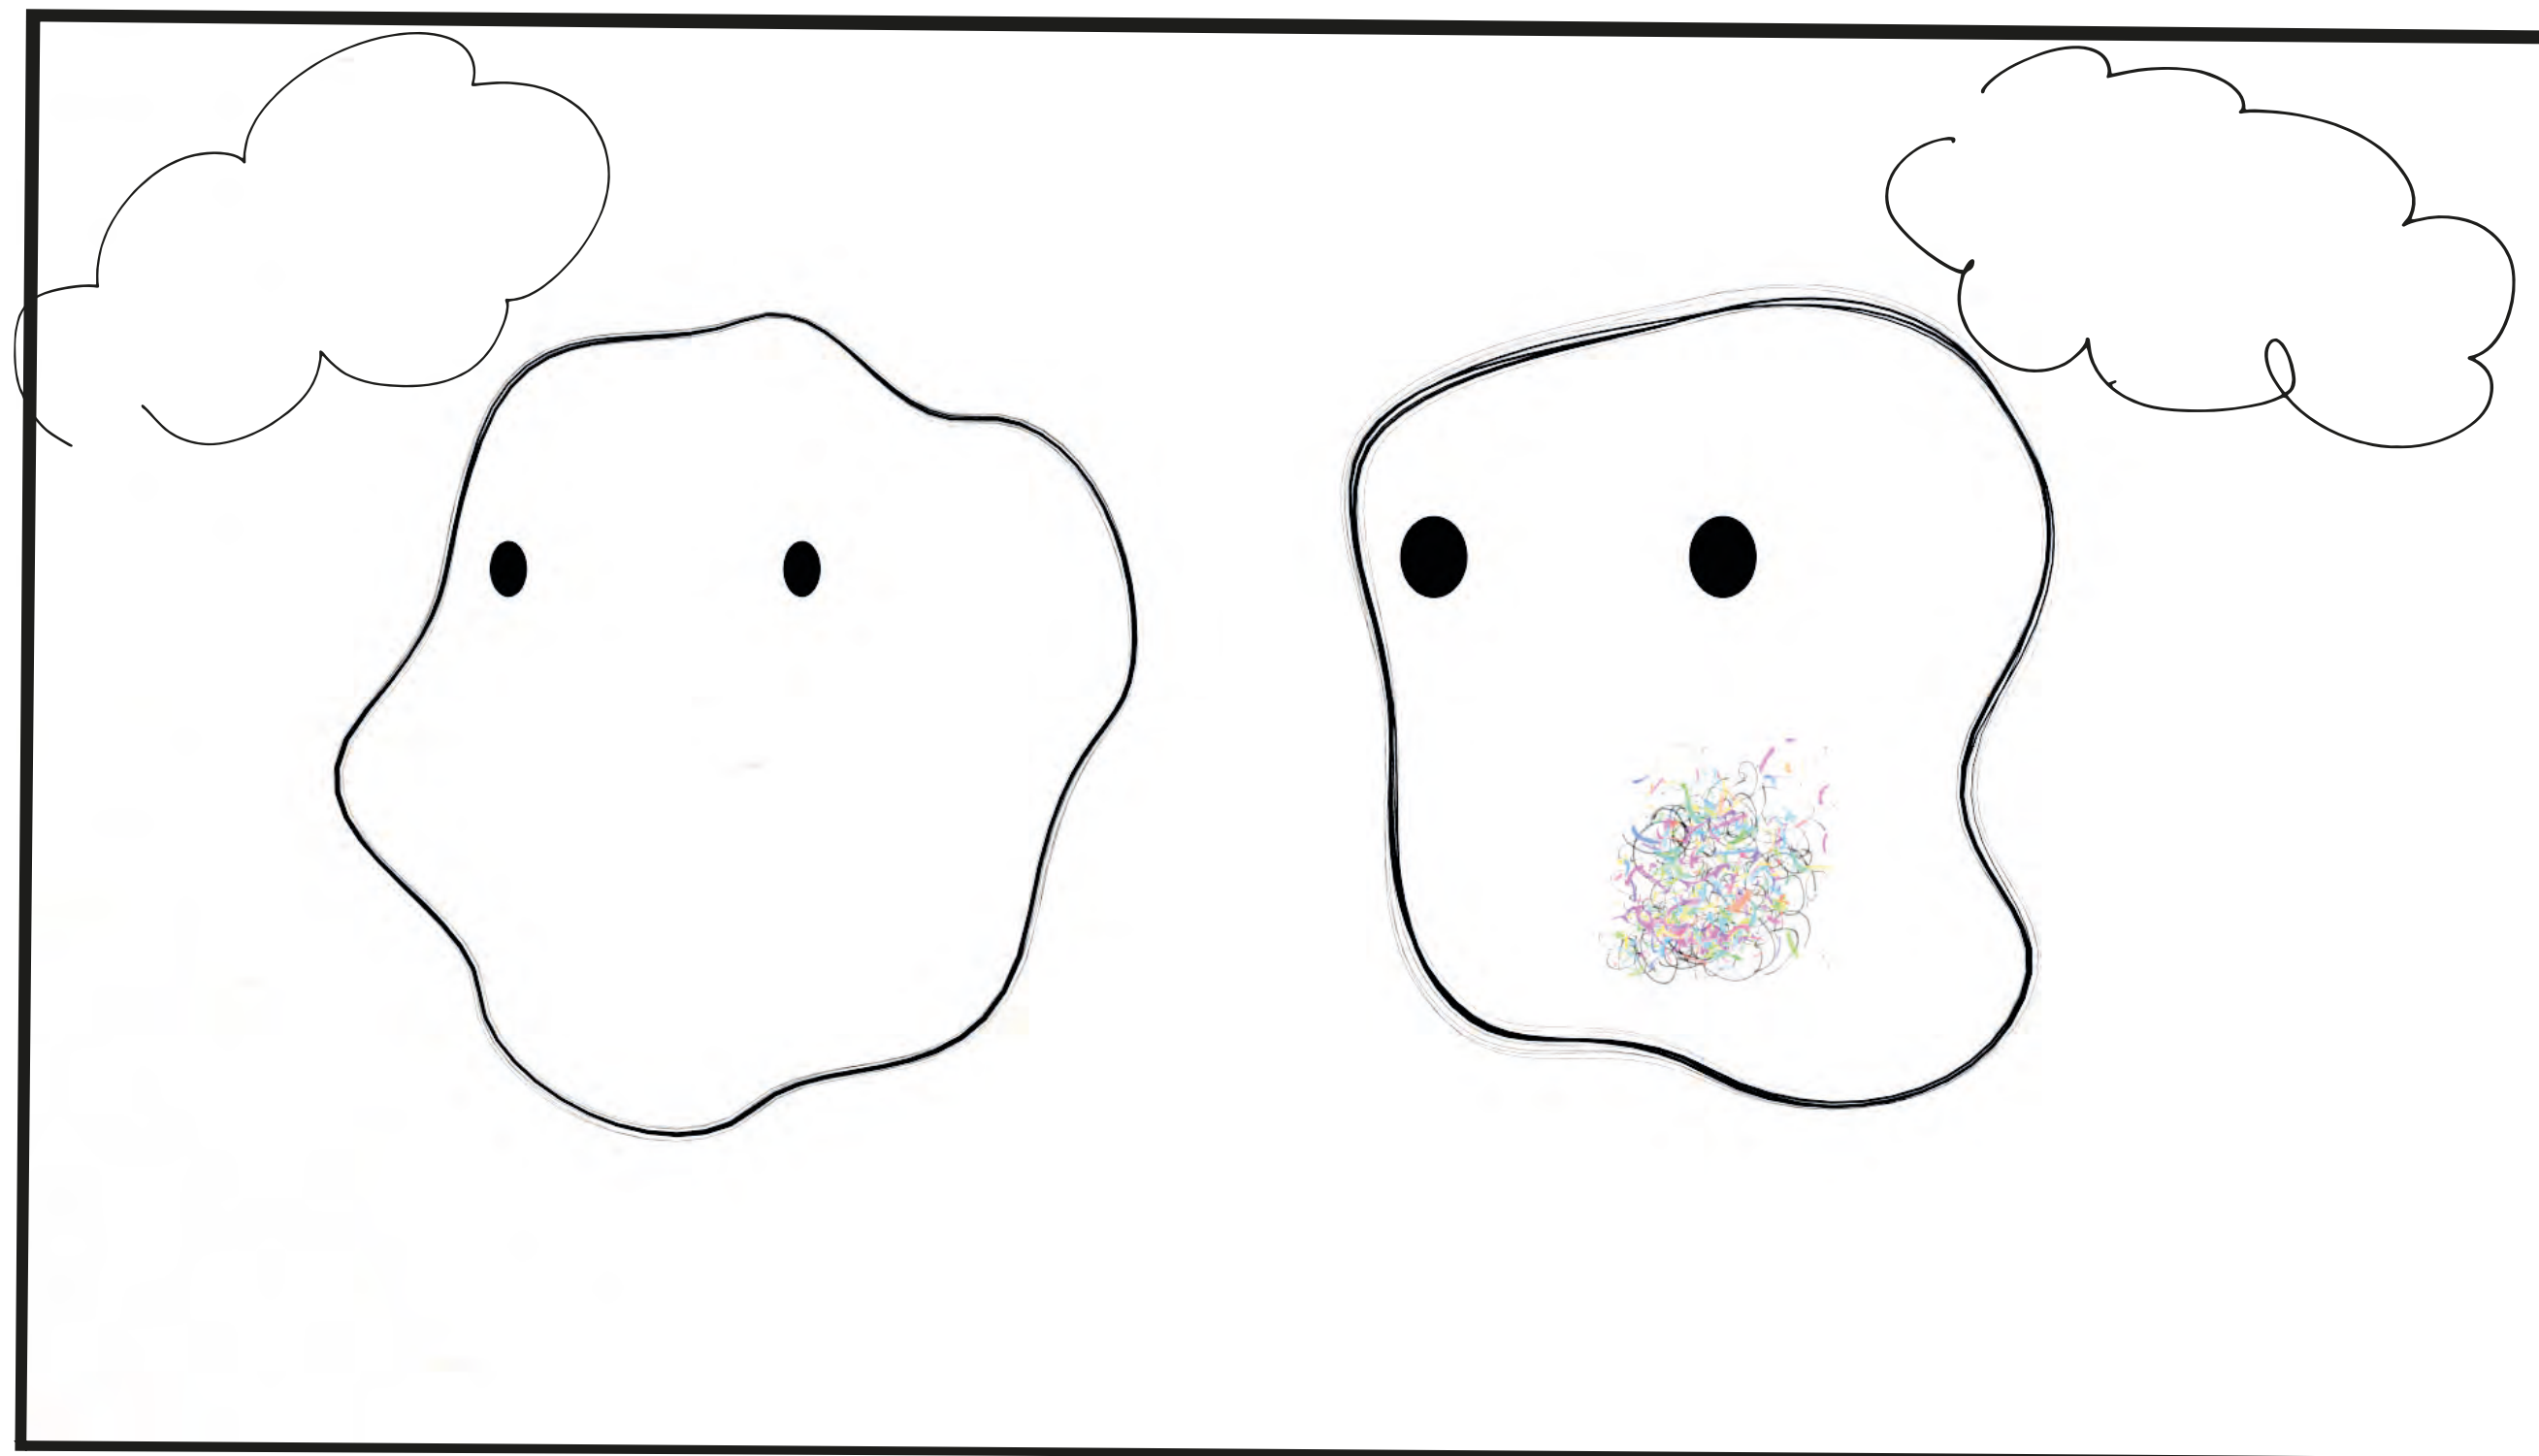

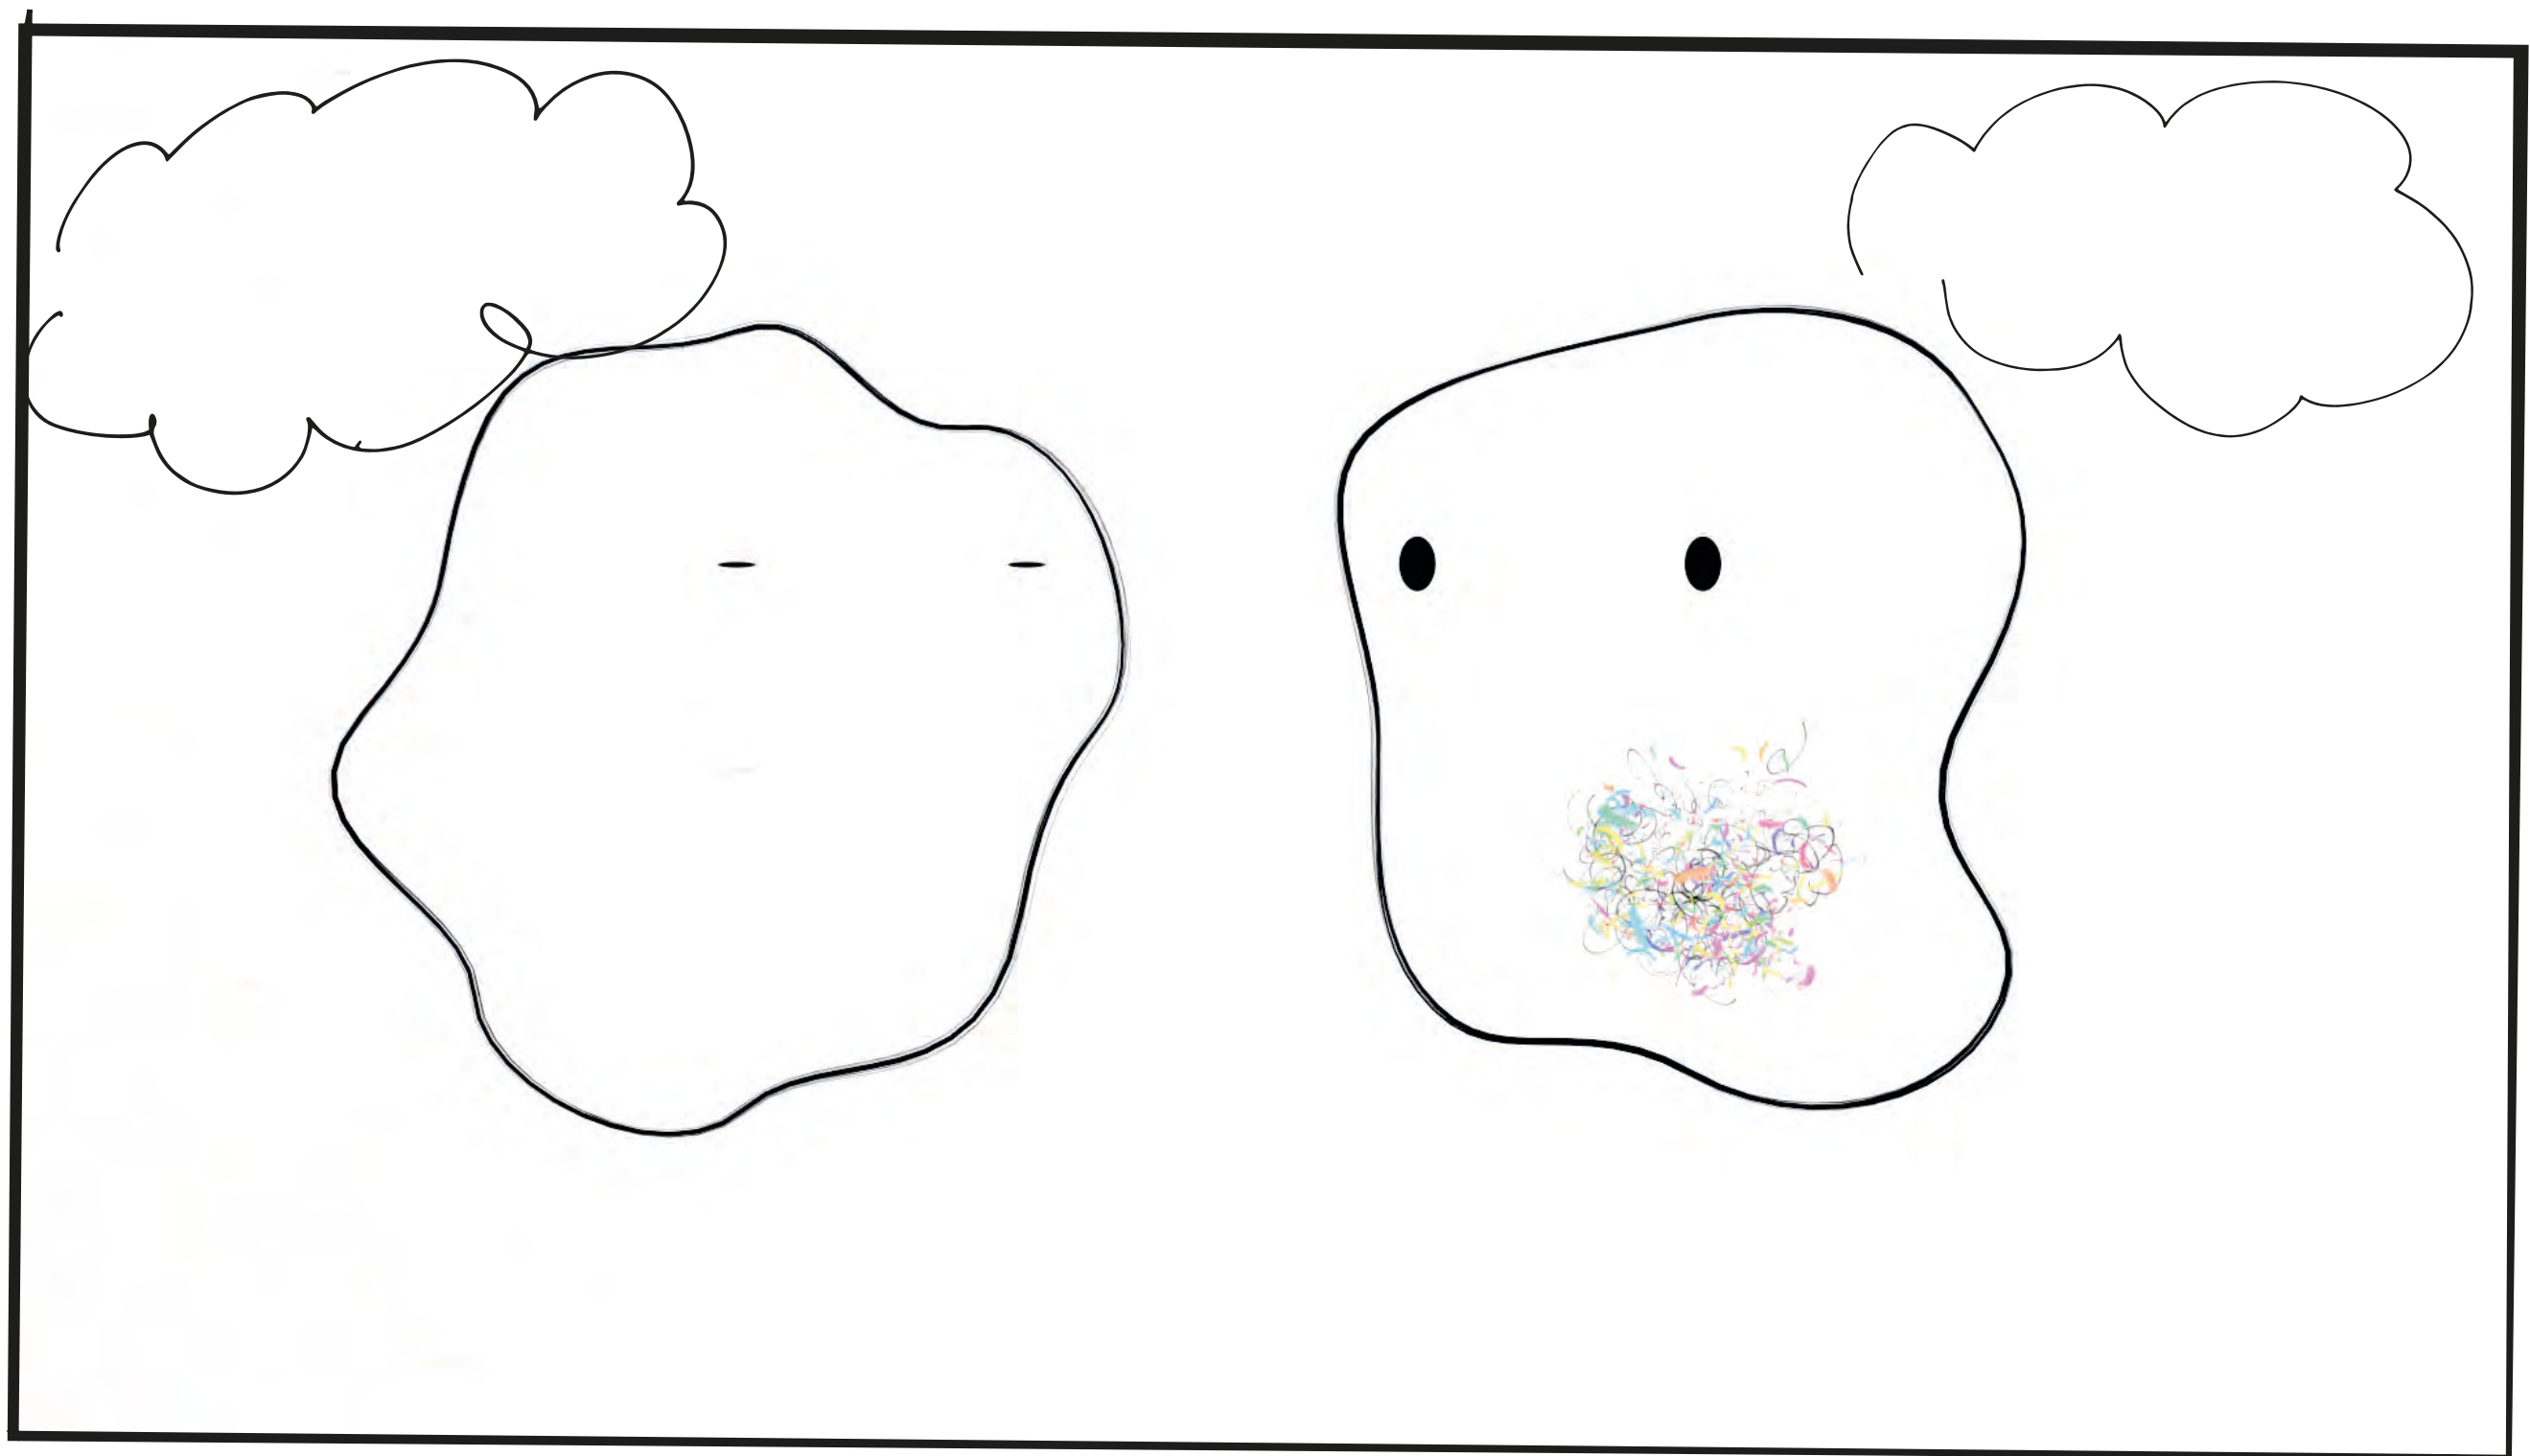

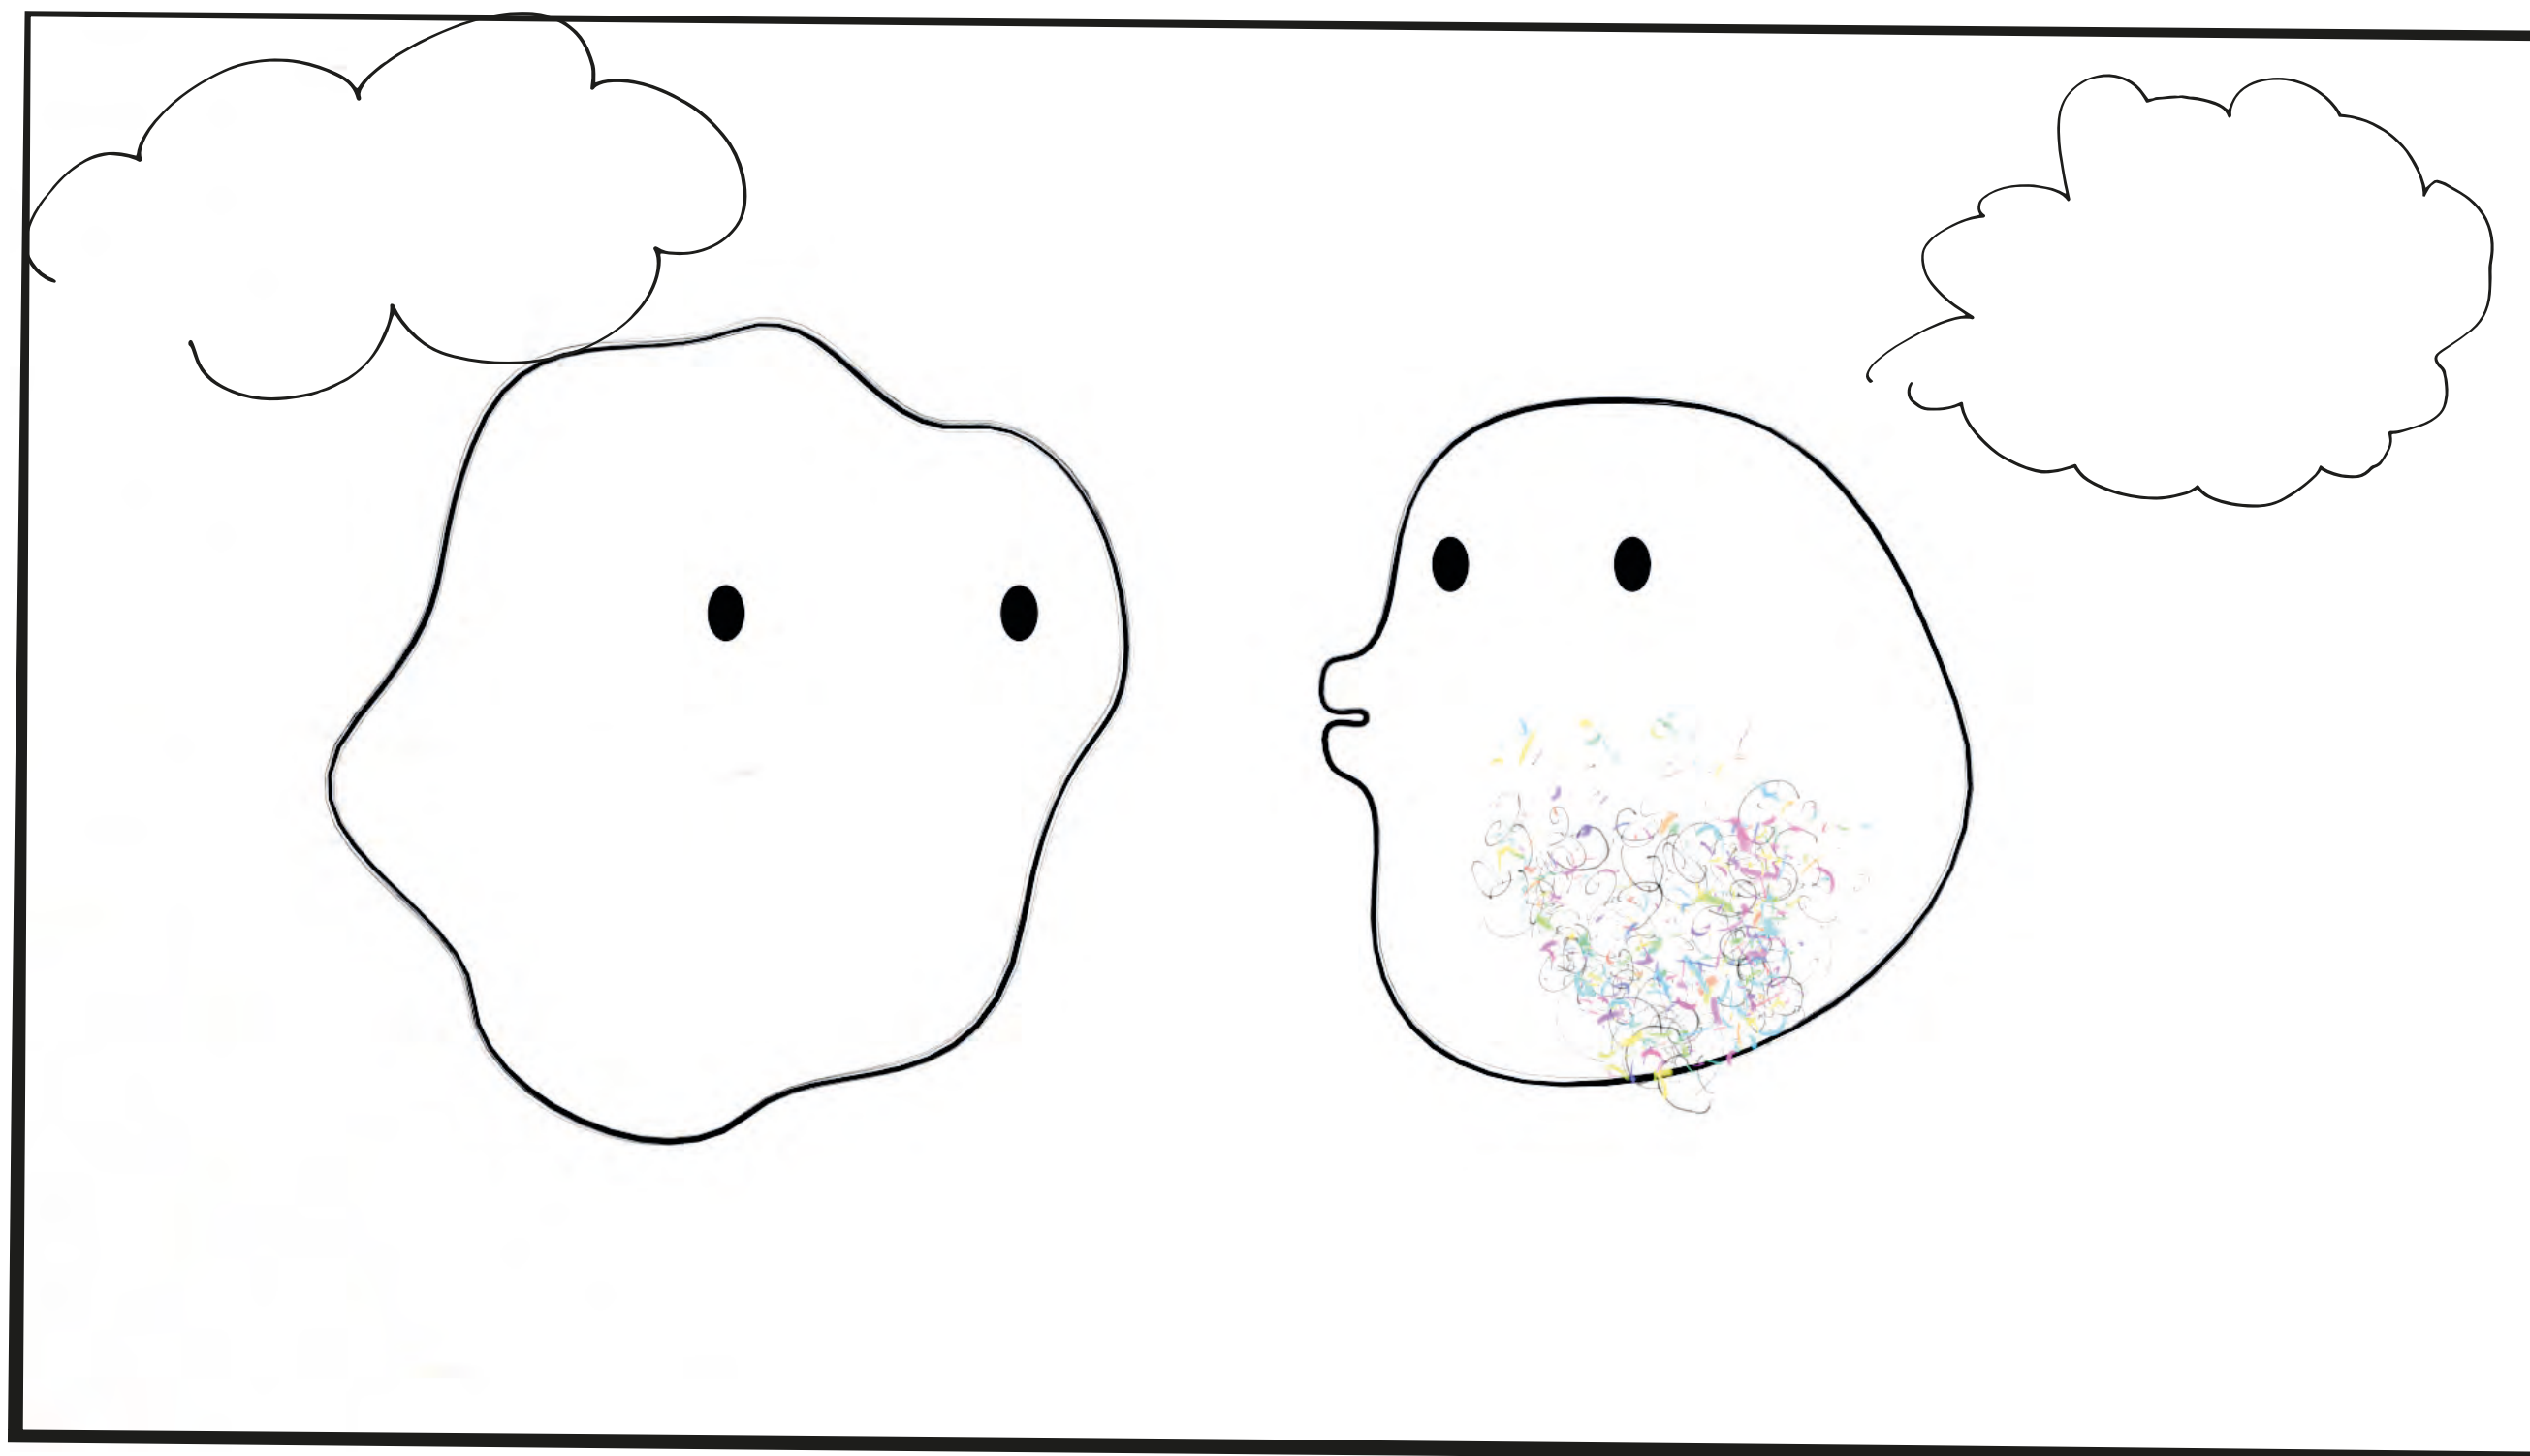

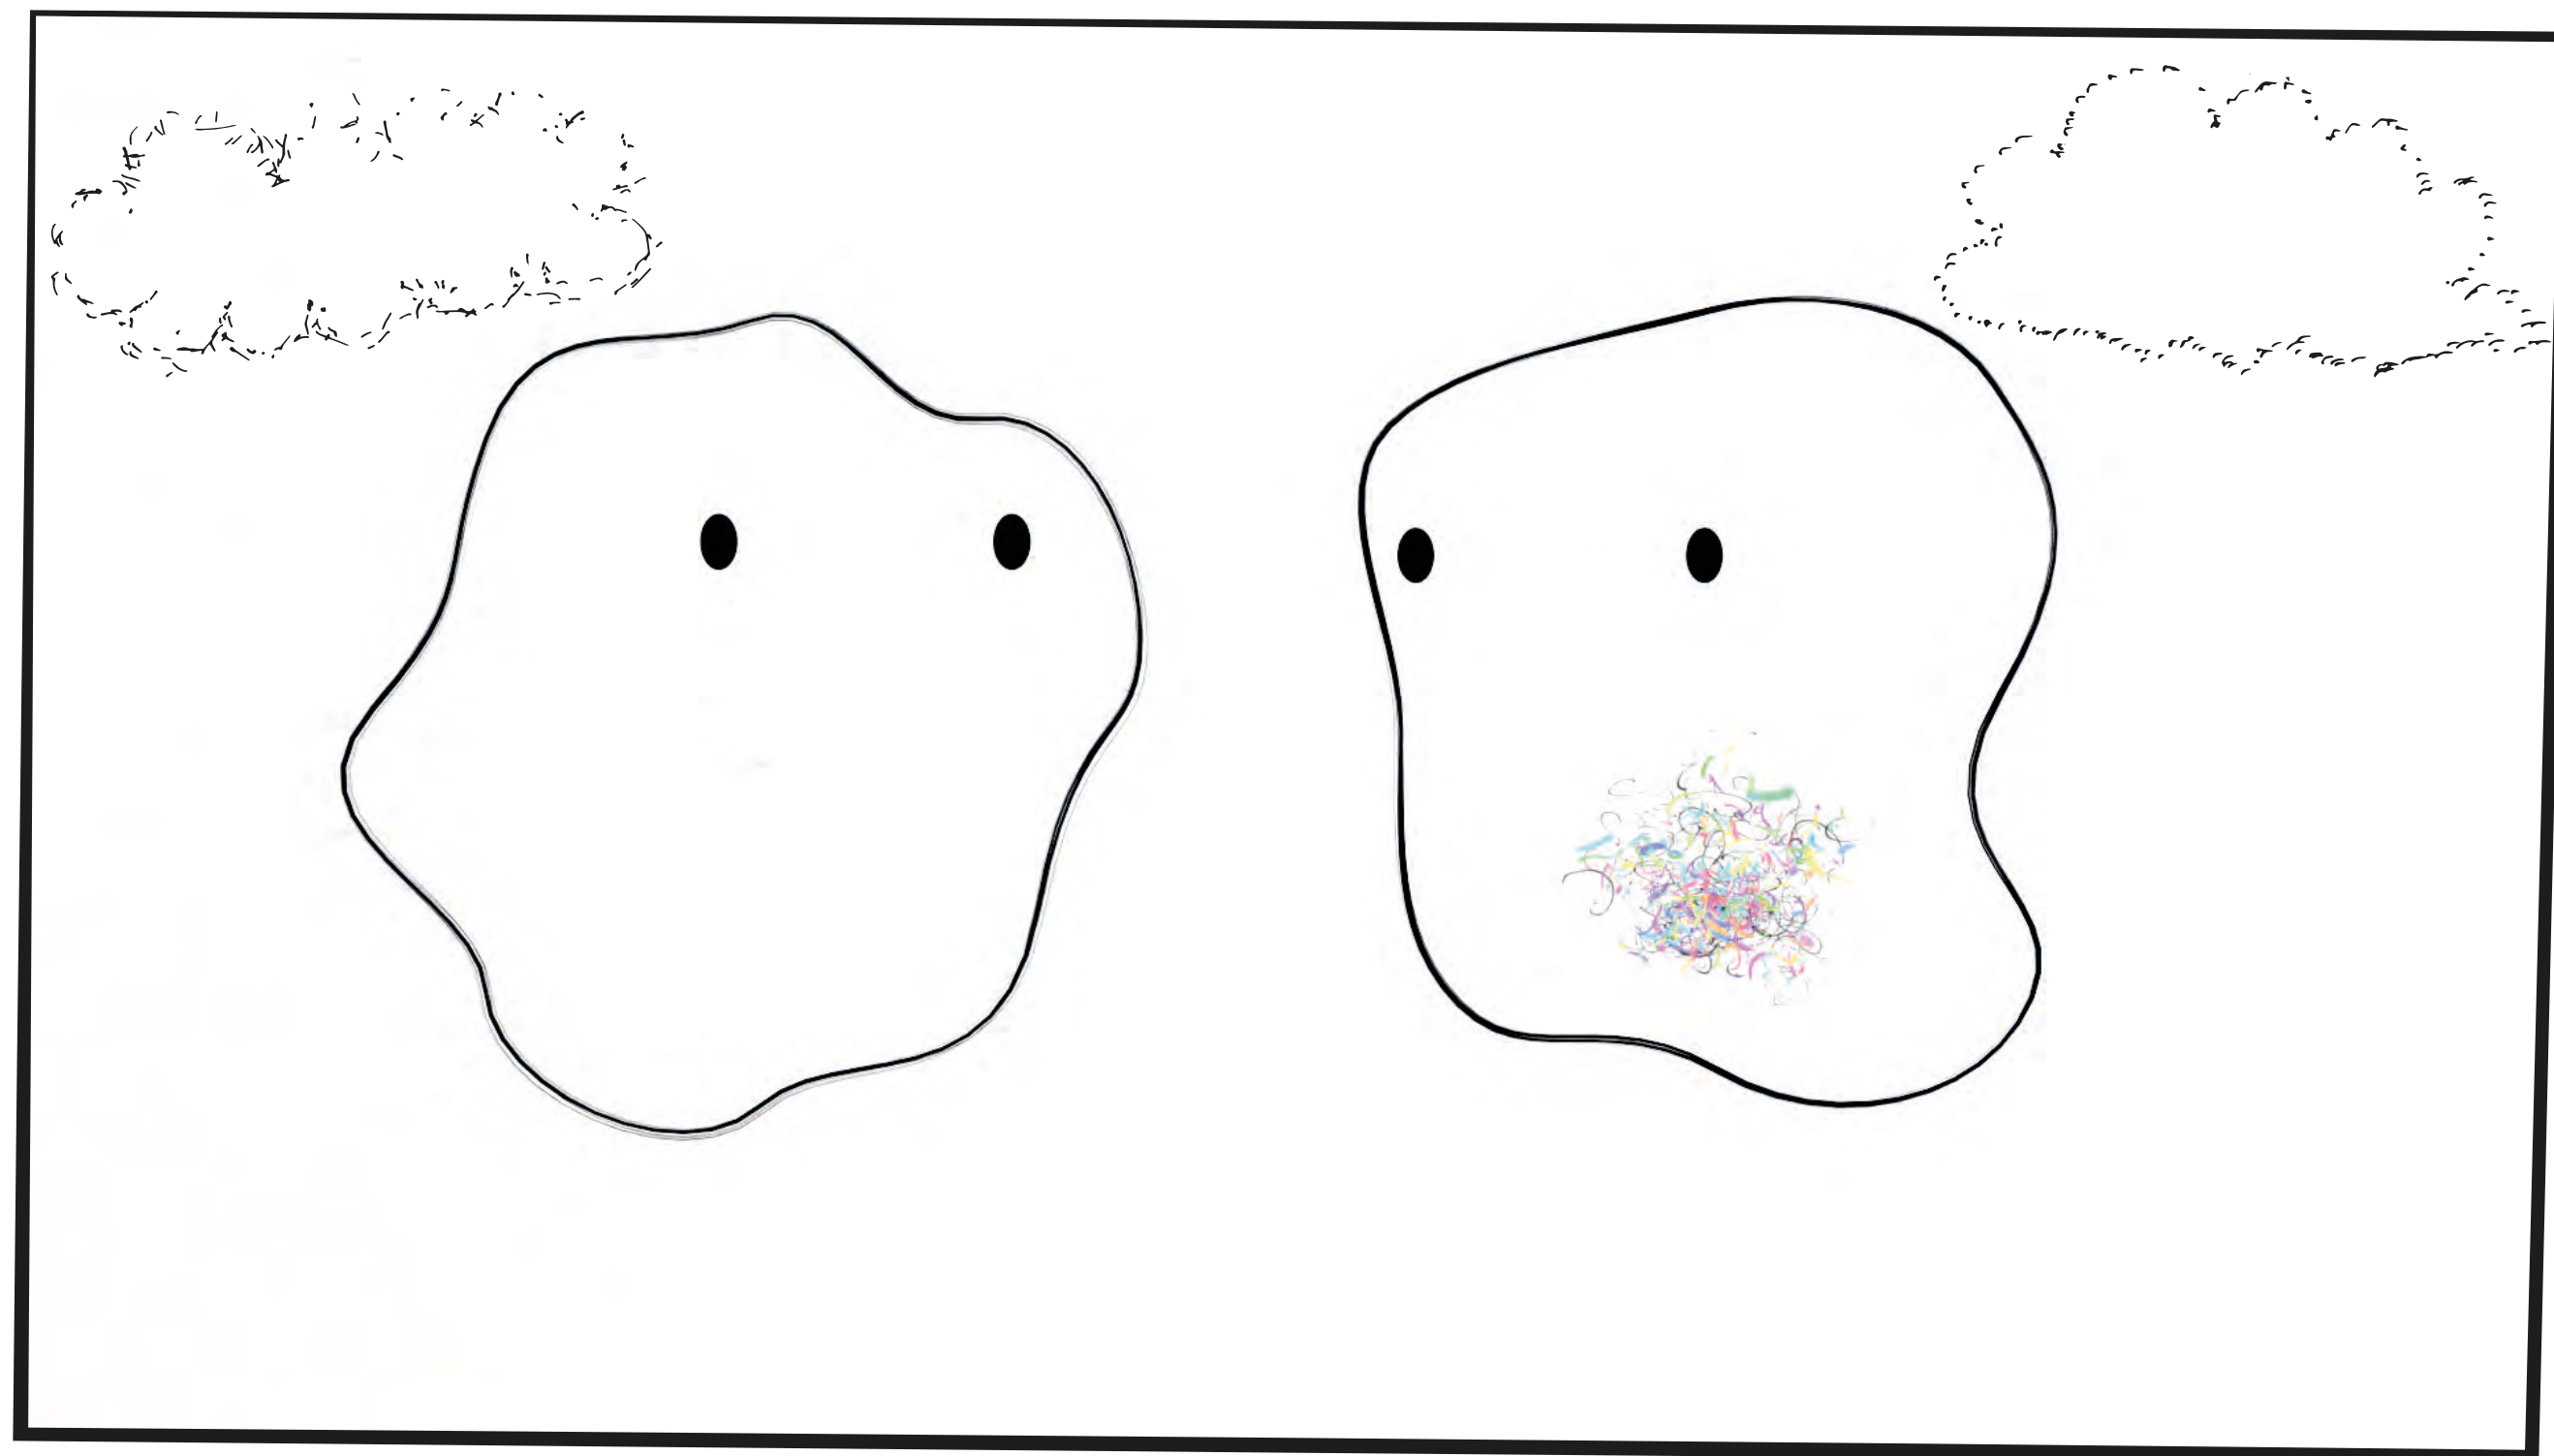

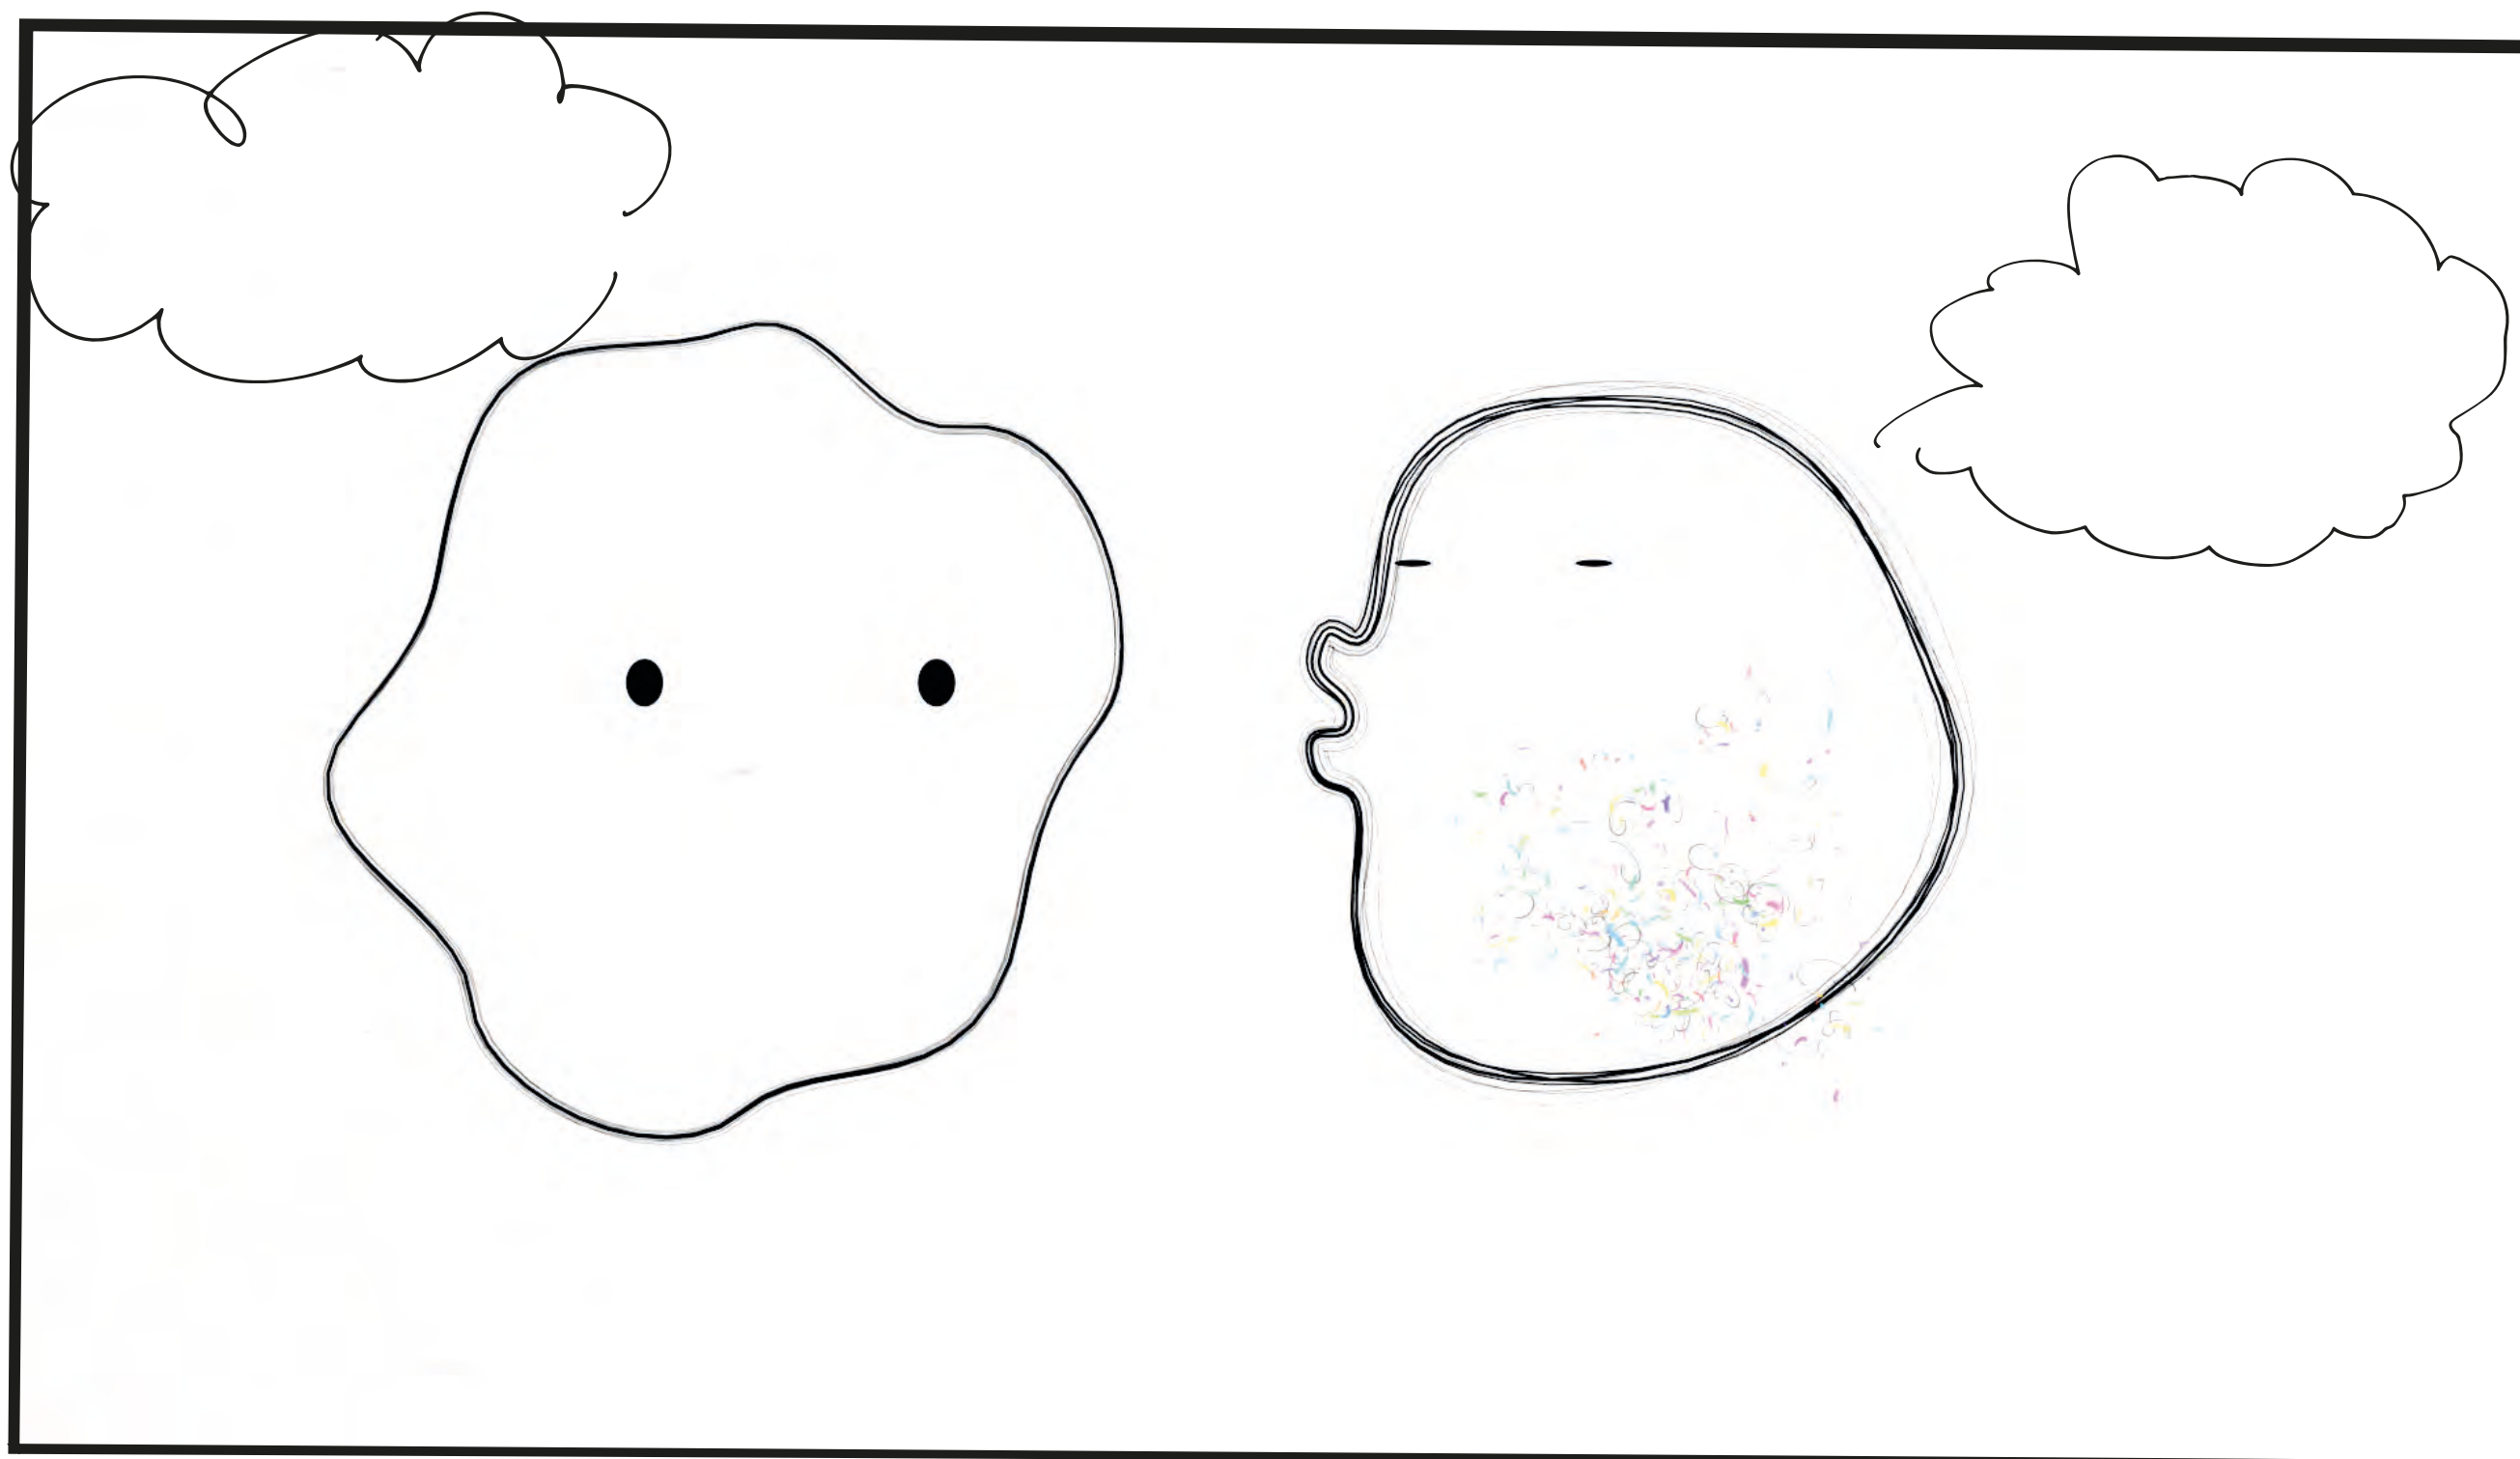

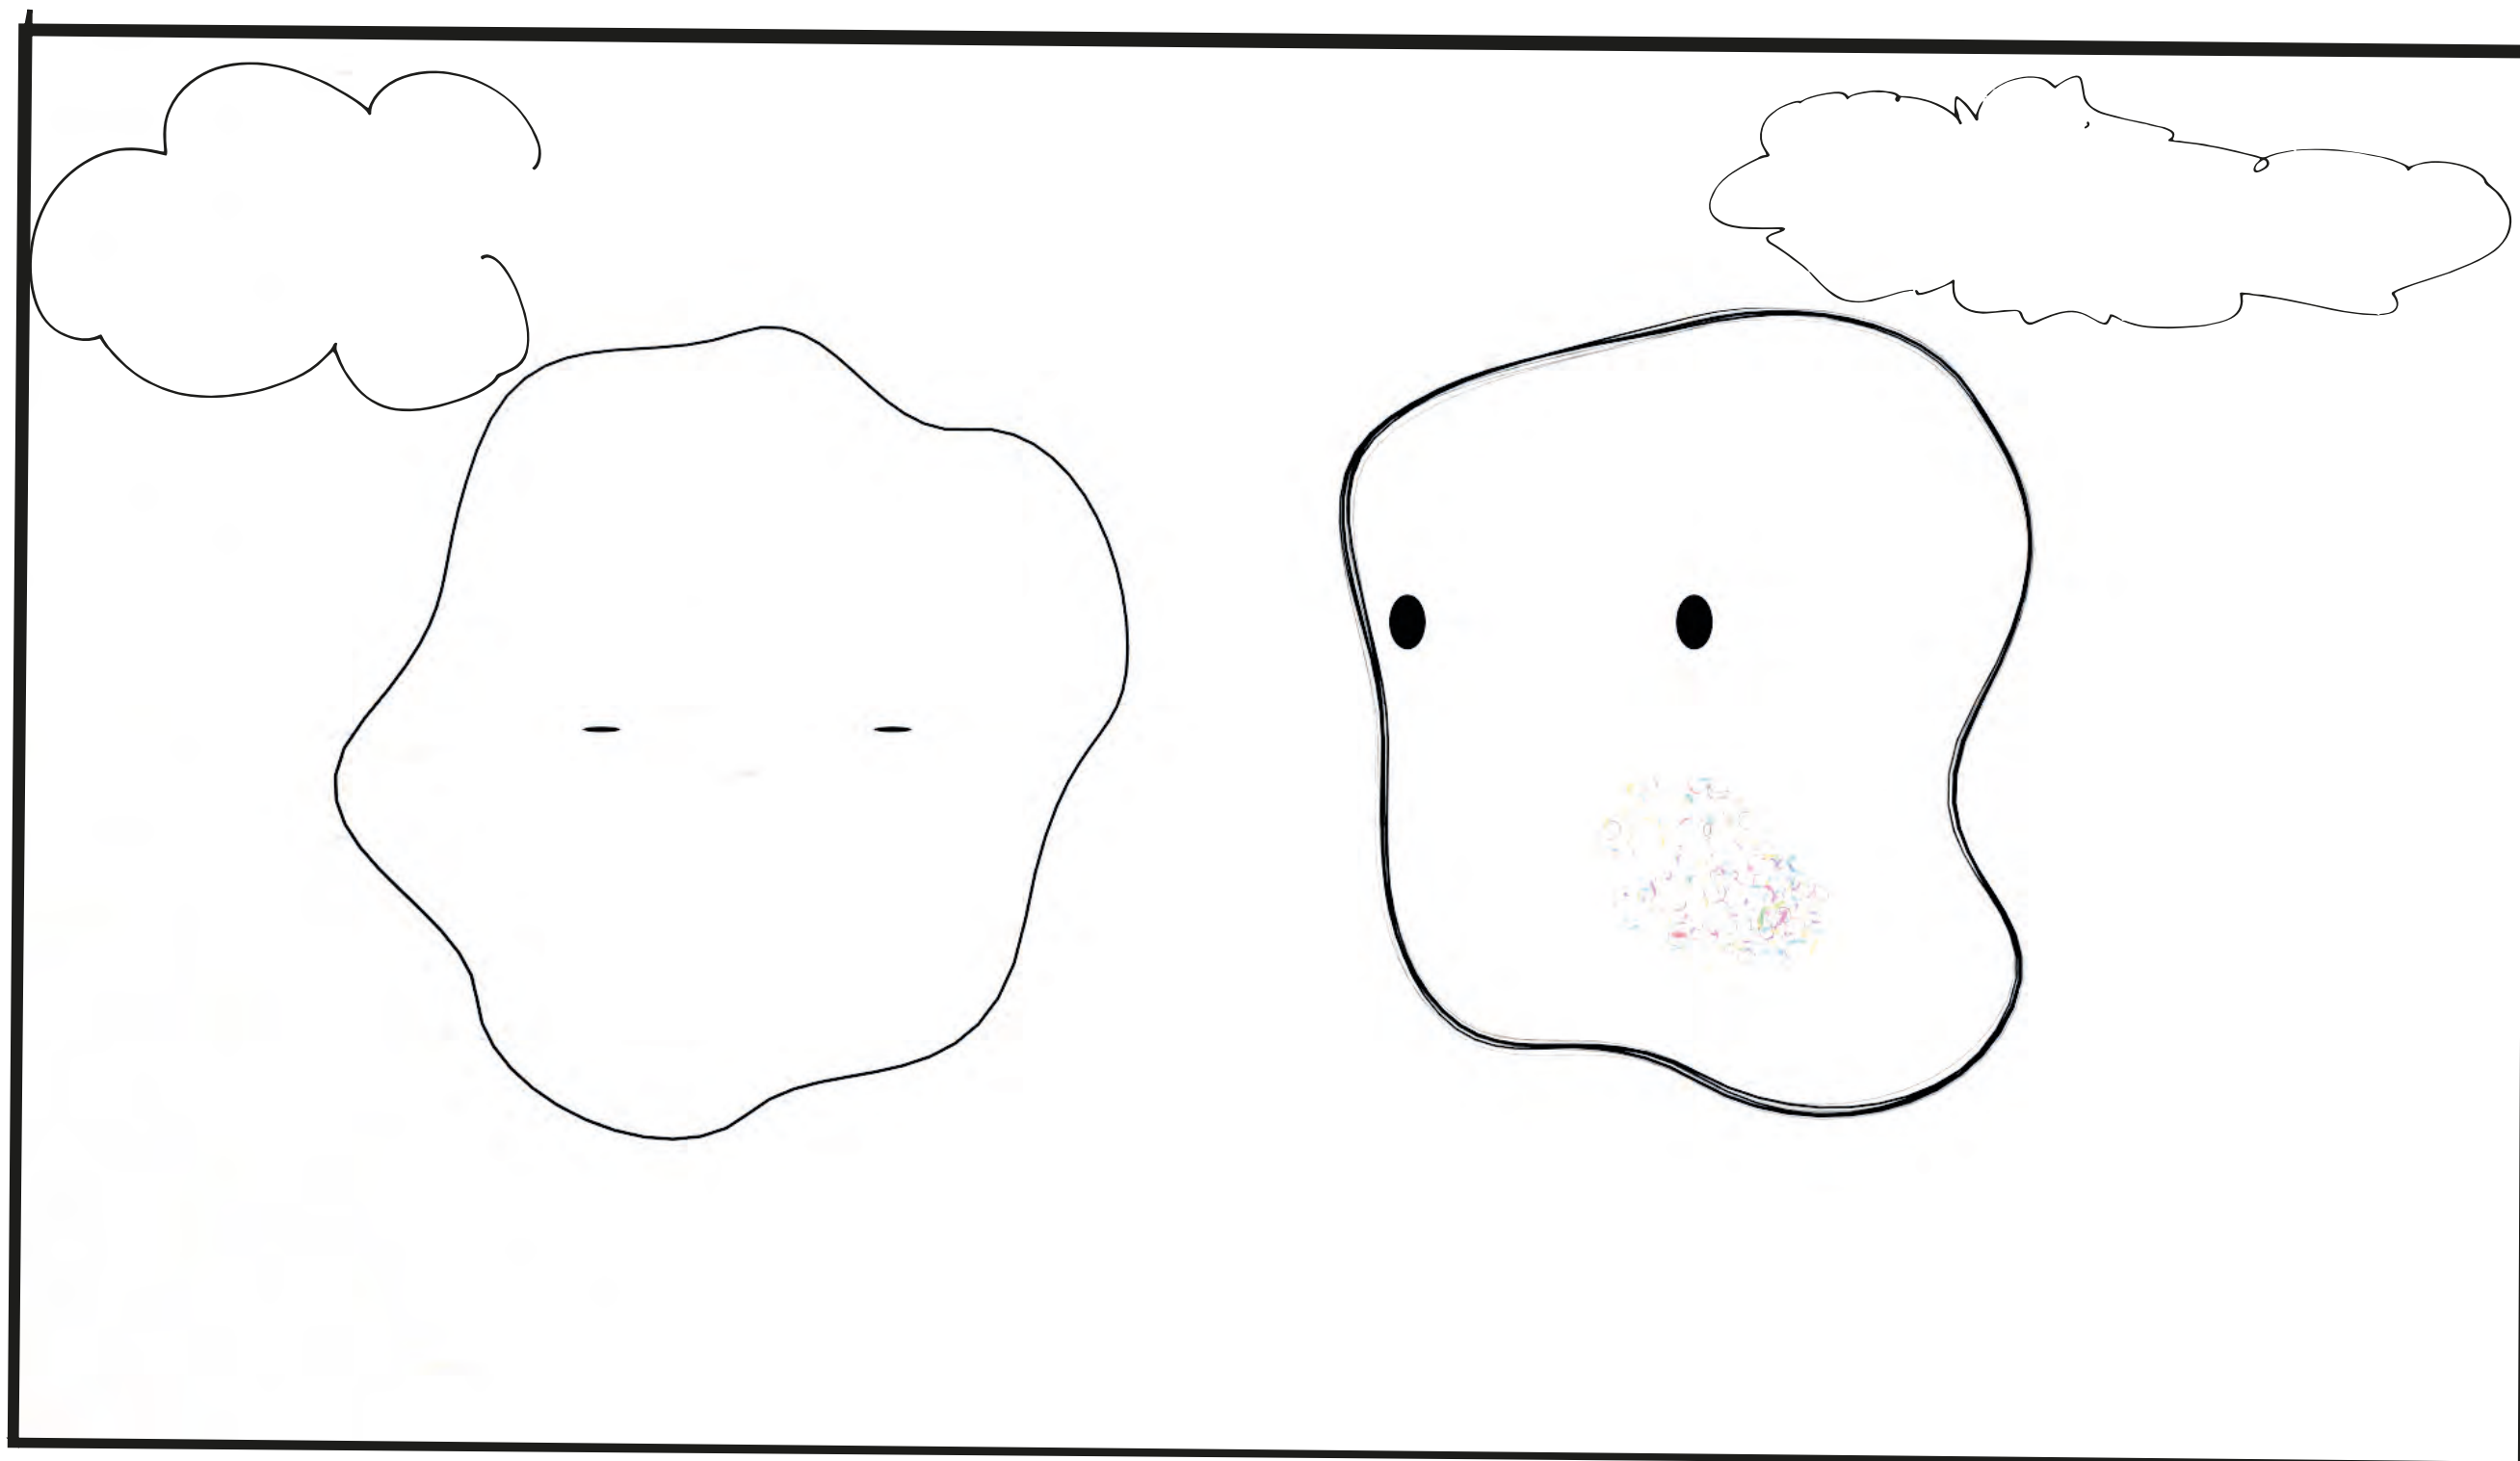

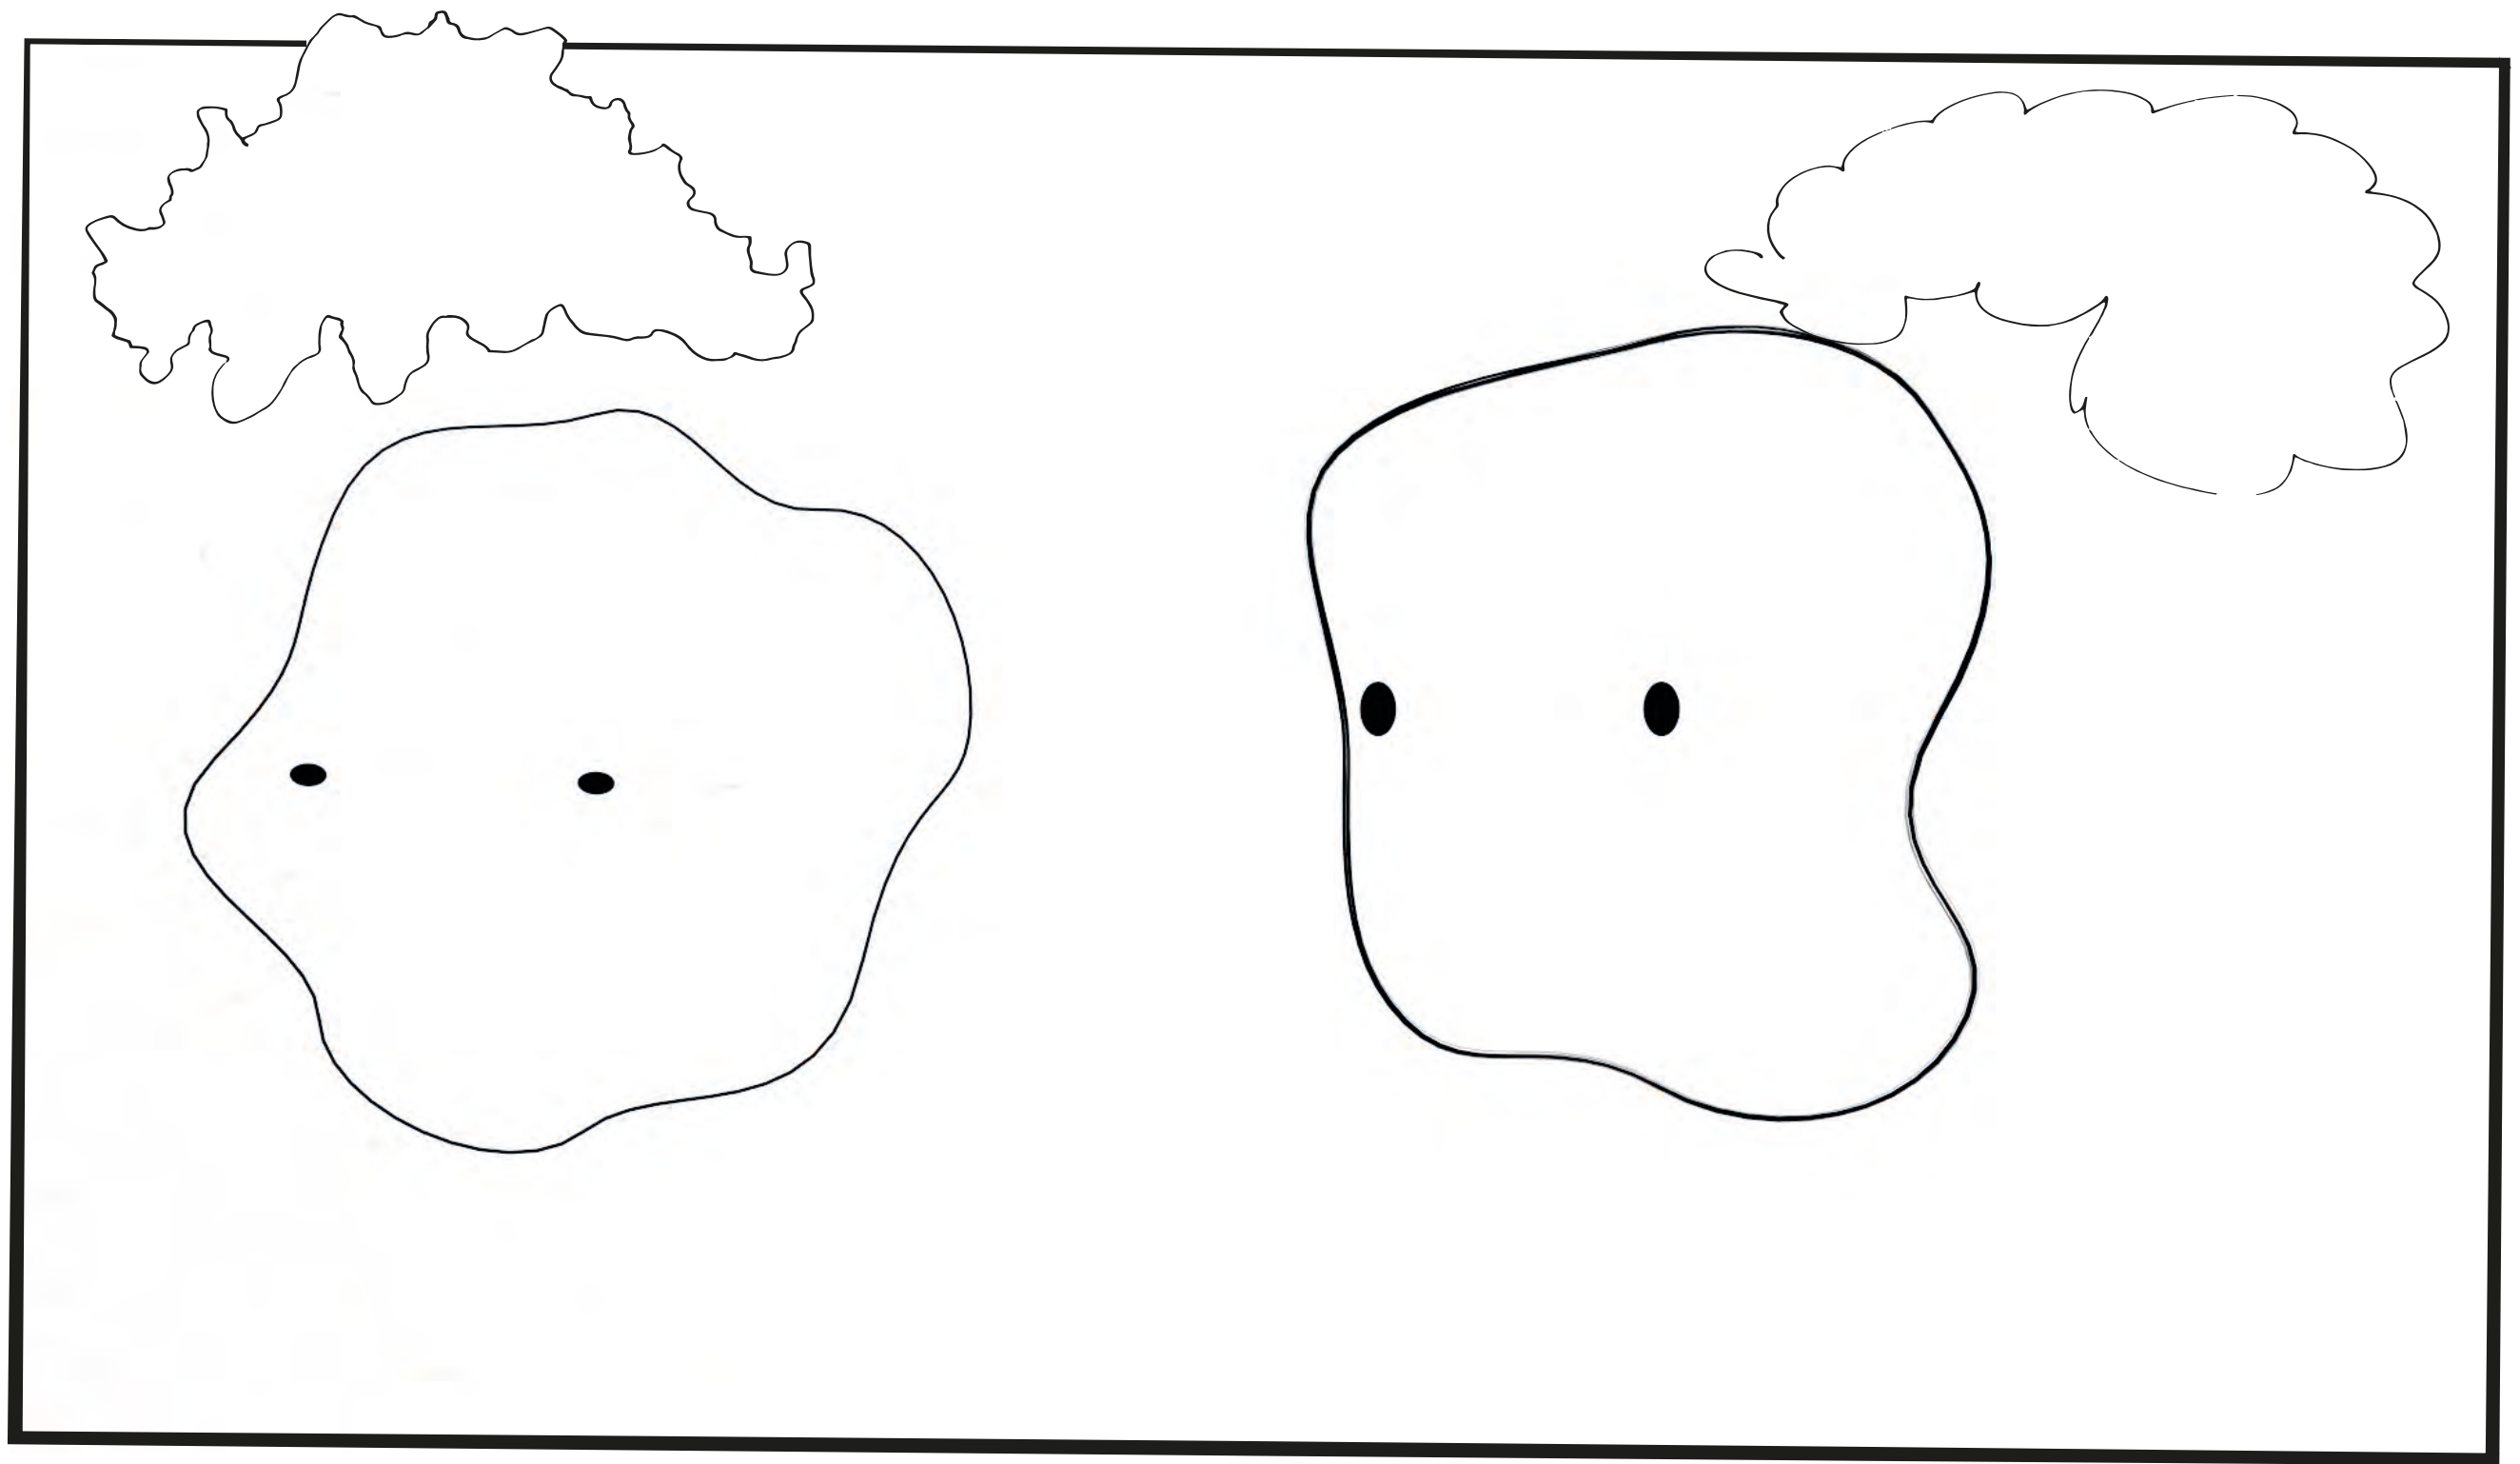

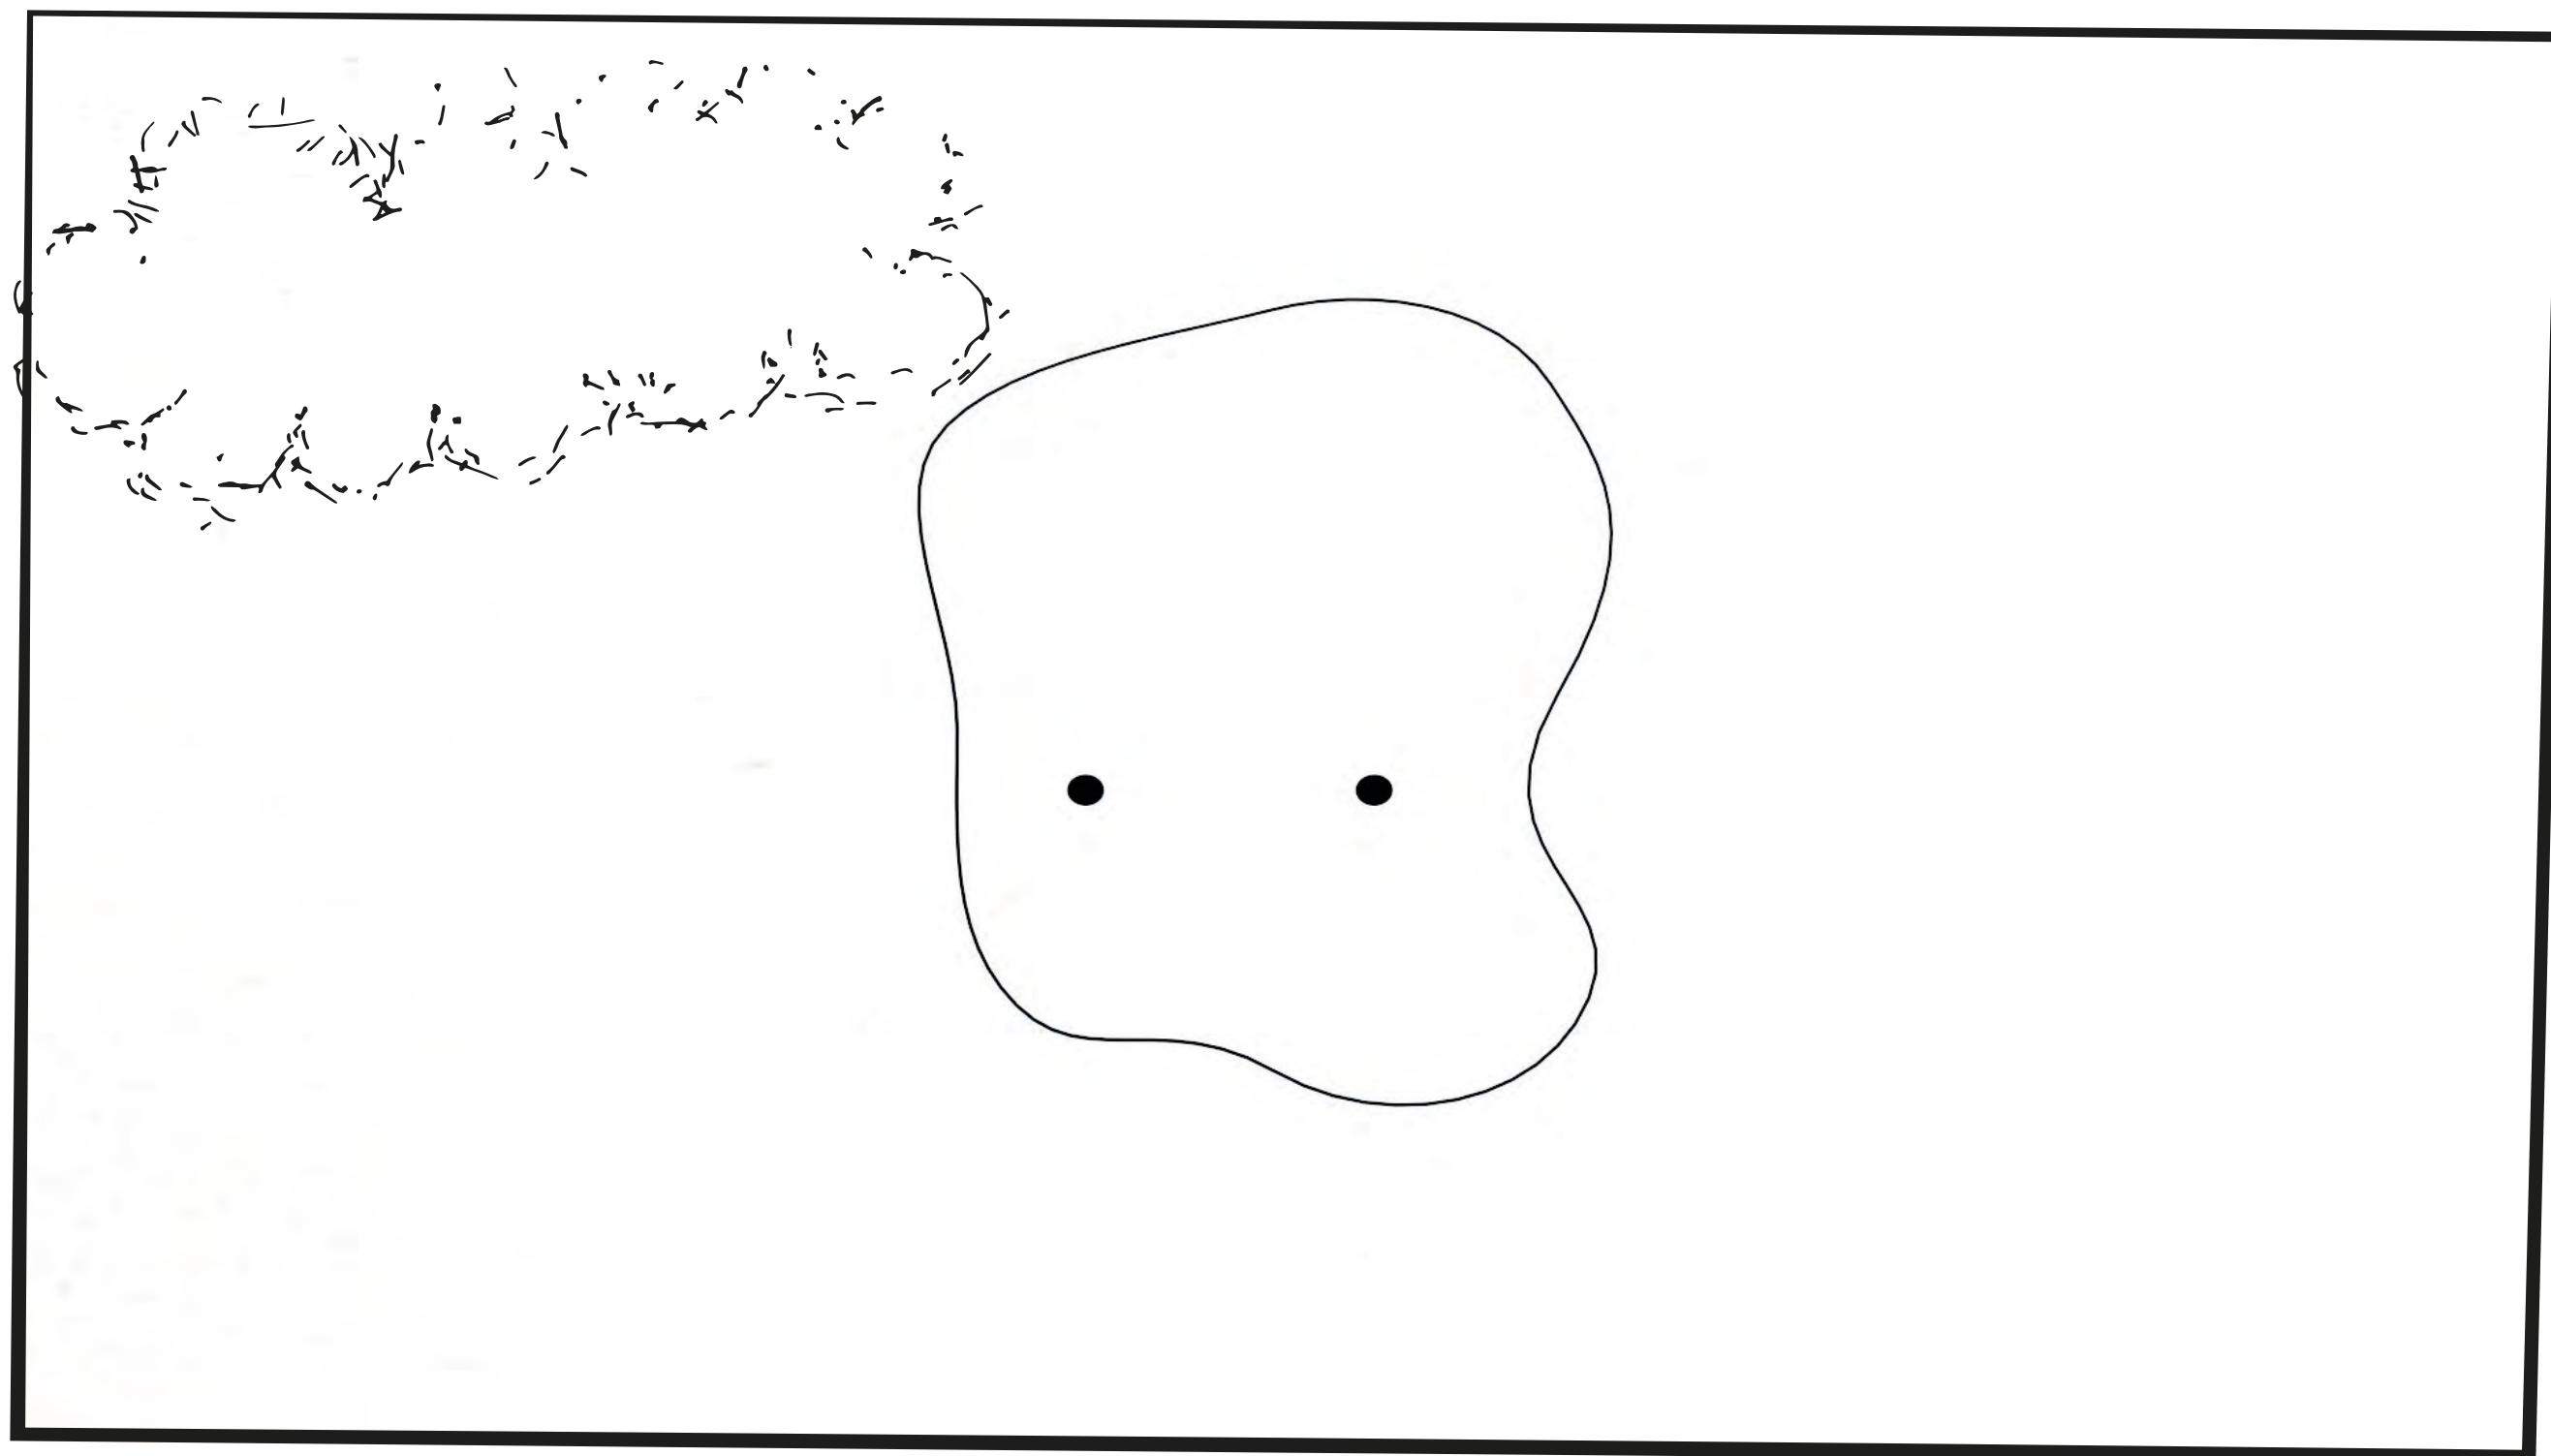

this story is for

because

feel what I feel...

Go to www.agenda.wales for more resources on creative ways to explore how to make positive relationships matter with children and young people.